A personal triumph

In South Okanagan the election was a personal triumph for Premier Bennett. He was elected on the first count with the largest vote and the largest majority ever given a candidate in this riding. His plurality over his nearest opponent was almost double the total vote of that opponent. He obtained 58.5 percent of the vote cast.

These are tremendous figures and certainly indicate that the election in this riding was never in doubt. It had been suggested that Mr. Bennett had lost some support; this, of course, was the exact opposite of the actual fact.

Mr. Bennett's overall majority was just about seven times that he obtained one year ago. Why the large increase? The answer, we believe, lies in two influences. First, the people of South Okanagan, like the people of the rest of the province, wanted a stable government and believed Social Credit was the only party which could provide it. Secondly, the fact that Mr. Bennett was premier of the province, was a magnet drawing votes to his banner. This, understandably, was a potent vote-getter and it would have been a major political earthquake had a seat such as this, held by the premier of the province, ever been in the slightest danger.

But, behind and beyond these two factors, there rested the undoubted fact that Mr. Bennett was, and always has been, a very strong candidate; opponents have always found him a tough one to beat. Indeed, provincially, they have never succeeded. His personal strong candidature plus the desire for stable government plus the fact that Mr. Bennett was head of Her Majesty's government in this province, all added up to broken records.

As we see it, the vote here was a personal Bennett vote rather than a carte blanche endorsement of Social Credit policies.

Mr. Bennett must indeed be a happy man; he would be less than human, if it were otherwise. To enjoy the personal support and confidence of his fellow citizens to the extent these things have been accorded him is a tribute which comes to few men. At the same time, the very unprecedented extent of that support and confidence places upon his shoulders an added responsibility. The people of South Okanagan have declared in very certain terms their belief that their affairs will be safe in his hands. The responsibility of justifying that confidence is his. Undoubtedly the extent of the support given by those who know him best will be an inspiration for him to bring to this province the best government in his power.

The campaign in South Okanagan was quiet, despite the fact that all three opposition parties worked hard and enthusiastically. Election campaigns here are usually noted for their gentlemanly quality, the absence of any personalities. This campaign was no exception; the general debate was confined to matters at issue, rather than attacks of a personal nature.

The Conservatives nominated to keep their organization intact for the federal election and Mrs. Weddell, well-aware of the fact that she was fighting a forlorn hope, found it was just that. The Progressive Conservative banner was deserted by even that rump which had clung to it during the great "protest" desertion of a year ago. Mrs. Weddell, we hope, appreciates that the smallness of her vote is in no way a reflection on herself; the plain truth being that the Conservative party, provincially, is washed up and was a year ago. It may be argued with some justification that it was a mistake for them to persuade a candidate to run in this election. Mrs. Weddell must know that she has hundreds of sympathizers and real friends who found themselves simply unable, despite their desire to support her personally, to vote for the futile cause which she espoused.

Mr. Wilkinson, the CCF candidate, saw his vote reduced somewhat, but in view of the general trend, he may take satisfaction in the fact that his vote fell but comparatively little and that he remained in second place. The two elections in the past year would seem to indicate that in this riding there are roughly 2,500 "hard-core" CCF votes which are there for that party come what may.

Mr. Wilson made an energetic campaign and has the satisfaction of being the only candidate opposing Mr. Bennett who increased the party vote. He was a good candidate, but he suffered from lack of grooming; he entered the fight without any preliminary build-up and was virtually unknown in Kelowna and the northern half of the riding, serious handicaps for any candidate running against the premier of the province.

And so, at this date, it would appear that South Okanagan, after a strenuous campaign, but one without personal animosities, will again be represented in provincial affairs by the head of Her Majesty's government in British Columbia.

Election aftermath

The people of British Columbia went to the polls on Tuesday and—apparently—said they wanted to give Premier Bennett's Social Credit government a second chance.

While the final issue will not be resolved for another three weeks, the results of the first count would seem now to indicate that the subsequent counts will give Mr. Bennett at least the largest group in the House and, perhaps—and maybe, probably—an overall majority. It will depend on the second and subsequent counts.

It must not be forgotten that the second and following counts one year ago radically altered the picture presented by the first count. At that time Social Credit had elected two and the CCF one but the CCF was leading in 20 and Social Credit in only 12. The subsequent counts made Social Credit the largest elected group. Today we have four Social Credit and two CCF elected but the former is leading in 26 seats and the latter in 13. The final standings of these two parties will depend upon which obtains the bulk of the second and third choices of the eliminated candidates. It is not unreasonable to assume that, in view of the Social Credit strength on the first

In jubilant mood

PREMIER W. A. C. BENNETT, and his campaign organizer, Ted Dodd, were in a jubilant mood when this picture was taken a few minutes after Mr. Bennett's victory was conceded Tuesday night. Some of the figures of the huge vote polled by Social Credit party leader can be seen on the blackboard.

Council pays tribute to those who assisted in successful coronation day celebration

Tribute to all those who had assisted in any way in the successful coronation day celebrations, was expressed at council meeting Monday night. Mayor J. J. Ladd, coronation committee chairman Art Jackson, and several other aldermen commended the community spirit which was displayed during the celebration. It was estimated that around 1,200 people assisted in one way or another with the celebration.

But the city also received several complimentary bouquets from local citizens who had taken the trouble in writing council. A letter from Dr. W. J. Knox, pioneer physician, just about sums up the letters of appreciation received by council.

TEXT OF LETTER

Dr. Knox wrote:

"I'm sure all who saw the various phases of the coronation celebrations in Kelowna agree wholeheartedly with the thanks in the Courier's column of appreciation of the work of the various directors and the hundreds of participants."

"I as a taxpayer since the incorporation of the city would like to express my approval of the up-to-date thought of you and your council in deciding to pay the expense involved in the days of entertainment, so that all could see and hear without any personal expense. For parents with large families this was a great consideration."

All areas of city have been sprayed for mosquitoes

Every part of the city has been sprayed to combat mosquitoes, according to a report tabled by O. Curtis, who has the mosquito control contract.

City Engineers George Meekling informed council that most of the mosquitoes seem to be coming from the south end of the city, whereas in bygone years, they were more noticeable in the north end.

Tennis stars will appear here June 30

Welcome news came for tennis devotees and all sports-minded persons this week.

World champion Jack Kramer and his tour will be here in Memorial Arena June 30. Arrangements for the local visit, the only one in the interior of the province, were concluded this week by the arena management.

Sportsmen and sportswomen from miles around are expected to flock to Kelowna for the exhibitions of the world's finest tennis that have been drawing thousands of spectators all over the United States and Canada.

With Kramer are Pancho Segura and the Australian ace Frank Sedgeman and Ken McGregor. More details will be announced later by the arena management.

Premier Bennett re-elected by heaviest vote ever given a candidate in this riding

Bennett pledges new education and liquor act

One of the first items to be dealt with by the Social Credit government, if, as indicated, it is returned to power, will be the implementation of a new liquor law and the Rolston formula on education finance.

Mr. Bennett made this known shortly after he was re-elected on the first count in Tuesday's election. He plans calling an early session of the legislature—possibly the end of September or early October.

Premier Bennett hailed the election results as a "return to the two-party system," with a middle-of-the-road free enterprise government, and a Socialist opposition.

HARD-FOUGHT ELECTION

"It was a very hard-fought election," he said "with four major parties struggling for existence. Two of them have now gone out of existence."

Although he was out in his forecast on the first-count sweep for Social Credit, the premier declared

Premier W. A. C. Bennett was re-elected on the first count by the heaviest vote ever accorded a candidate in South Okanagan riding.

And the leader of the eight-month-old minority Social Credit government was more than jubilant when first count ballots indicate his party is heading back to power with a clear majority. The Liberal and Conservative parties suffered one of the worst defeats in the last two decades.

While the final outcome of Tuesday's election will not be known until counting of ballots resumes on June 30, it is likely the CCF will be the official opposition.

Today the party standing at the end of the first count is as follows:

	Elected	(1952)	Leading	(1952)
Social Credit	4	3	26	11
CCF	2	2	15	19
Labor			1	1

Mr. Bennett's absolute majority was 944 votes, compared with 146 in the election last year. His overall majority was 1891, nearly seven times greater than in 1952. Mr. Bennett received 58.49 percent of the effective vote; Mr. Wilkinson 21.79; Mr. Wilson, 17 percent and Mrs. Weddell 3.52 percent.

A study of the vote in South Okanagan area discloses that the Conservatives lost heavily to Social Credit, while part of the CCF vote also switched. The Liberals made a slight gain compared with last year's vote.

Mr. Bennett showed a gain at every one of the polls except two—Rutland and Westbank, while at two polling divisions, he received the same number of votes. CCF on the other hand, received a less number of votes at 15 of the 16 polling divisions. At Joe Rich, the candidate received two votes—the same as last year. Conservatives also lost out heavily compared with the 1952 vote. Their vote was down at every polling division compared with last year's balloting. Liberal candidate, showed slight gains in ten of the 16 polling divisions. They were down at five and at one polling booth, they received the same number—58 at Winfield.

SWEEP INDICATED

Total of 77.9 percent of the 14,773 people on the voters' list went to the polls in Tuesday's election. This compares with 74.8 percent in 1952 and 78.95 percent in 1948. However, it must be taken into consideration that a lot of the "dead wood" was removed from

Comet pilot re-united with family

A WELCOMING MOTHER'S EMBRACE greets F/L Ralph Herbert as he arrived at Vancouver's international airport yesterday with the RCAF's new Comet jet airliner. It was the first time the former Kelowna pilot had seen his parents and his brother for over a year. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Herbert and son Douglas Herbert (right) motored from here to meet the jet pilot. The plane returned to Ottawa today.

Comet jet airliner controls handled by F-L R. Herbert

A huge De Havilland Comet airliner landed in Vancouver yesterday on a trans-Canada tour and it marked a happy reunion for well-known Kelowna people.

Met at the airport by his parents and brother from Kelowna was former Kelownian Flight Lieutenant Ralph Herbert, one of the pilots of the plane. Greeting him for the first time in a year were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Herbert and City Comptroller Doug Herbert.

The reunion was brief, F/L Herbert having to go back with the RCAF skyliner to Ottawa today.

Having served with the RCAF with distinction in World War II, during which he won the Distinguished Flying Cross with bar, F/L Herbert recently returned from England where he and other RCAF personnel underwent special training in jet flying. The Comet jet airliner is generally regarded as the fastest commercial aircraft in the world.

EDUCATED HERE

Born in Vancouver, F/L Herbert came to Kelowna as a boy with his parents and received most of his schooling here. A brother, Gerald M. Herbert, was killed in World War II while on a flying mission with the RCAF in 1943.

Ralph Herbert was one of the pilots that took the RCAF Comet from England on a world-wide training tour before bringing the plane to Canada.

Okanagan Lake eight inches lower than '52

Level of Okanagan Lake is within 12 inches of the agreed maximum, and about eight inches lower than at the same time last year.

Present reading is 1015 feet. Mill (Kelowna) Creek came up about a foot last week-end following heavy rains in this area. However, there is no danger of high water this year. Conversely, irrigation districts are keeping a close tab on water supplies, as there may be a shortage for irrigation purposes.

Interior track championships to draw finest athletes in Pacific north-west

"The finest yet!" is the forecast for the June 27 KART-sponsored Interior Track and Field Championships meet.

The way entries are coming in from all over the province and many points in the State of Washington has indicated to Kelowna Athletic Round Table that cinder fans are in for another record treat. Some of the final details for the meet, to begin at 6:00 p.m. two weeks from Saturday, were worked out at KART's monthly meeting Tuesday.

In addition to the usual contingent from the athletic clubs in Vancouver, entries are coming in from Trail and Nelson and all Okanagan points. Here for the first time will be a team from Snohomish, Wash. Two middle distance stars from Washington State College also are expected.

Also looked for is Joe Widman of Rosalia, Wash., present holder of the meet's shot put and discus records. Onlookers recall how Widman bettered the Canadian record in an exhibition discus throw here two years ago but since it was an exhibition it could not be recognized.

KART officials are hoping for a decent break from the weather man this year. In the past, cloudy skies and threat of rain have cut deeply into the gate receipts of this meet, the main revenue-raiser of the round table.

Whether KART will be able to foster a playground program this summer still isn't known for sure. Both previous supervisors are unable to come this year.

Negotiations are going on with another young lady, currently attending Normal School in Vancouver. KART still hopes to hire a suitable supervisor to carry out a broader program, more playgrounds, during July and August.

Bruins could take over lead tonight

Kelowna Bruins could take over sole possession of the top slot in the interior senior "B" boxla circuit tonight when they take on the Kamloops Klippers in a league fixture beginning in Memorial Arena at 9:00 o'clock.

At present the Bruins and Salmon Arm Aces are tied for the lead with four wins each, though the Aces have dropped only one to Kelowna's two.

One of Kelowna's losses was to the Klippers in their first appearance here two weeks ago in a ding-dong battle that Kamloops took by a 12-11 margin. Bruins gained partial revenge for their first loss on home grounds by dumping the Klippers 16-8 at Kamloops Saturday.

Tonight's scene shifts to Kamloops Saturday when the Klippers will host the Bruins. The other two teams in the league also will see action Saturday, with Salmon Arm showing in Penticton.

Pirates win, lose in Little League

Jim Gordon pitched and hit his team to victory as the Pirates edged the Chiefs 2-1 Monday evening in a Little League fixture.

Gordon gave up only one hit and his home-run with nobody on in the third proved to be the winning run. He walked three men. Losing pitcher Rodney Gagnon allowed three hits and walked none.

Chiefs threatened several times and their last of the ninth scare was as close as boards on a house. Chiefs got runners on second and third with one out. Weddell hit a high fly to Bissell in left field who threw to second, catching the runner off. Second baseman Kielbiski fired the ball home, nailing Laface trying to score after the catch, to end the game.

WEDNESDAY GAME
In a match as close as the score indicated, the Dodgers edged the Pirates 6-5 in a Little League contest last night.

Orlo Peterson of the Dodgers and Peter Voght of the Pirates both gave up six hits, the former walking three and the latter four. The extra error by the Pirates (they had two to Dodgers' one) contributed to the score.

Booster club calls another meeting for Friday night

Ways and means of raising money to help finance a winning hockey team were "round-tabled" at a meeting of the Packer Backer Club last night. Several worthwhile suggestions were put forth to raise revenue above and beyond the receipts taken in by the hockey club at the gate.

Believing that the time to start working is now, the meeting appointed a steering committee that will meet this afternoon to draft the better suggestions and present them at another general meeting tomorrow night. On the committee that will meet at 5:00 o'clock today are: Norm Taylor, Len Leathley, Rex Rhodes, Nick Matick and Gordon Crosby.

The general meeting will be held tomorrow evening in the Royal Anne Hotel at 8:00 o'clock. All Packer Backers are urged to turn out for this important meeting.

Tournament off for Orioles; play league tilt here Sunday

There'll be baseball on the Sunday-sports menu after all. Up to Tuesday a postponement of the Oliver Elks at Kelowna Orioles game here Sunday was in effect, the Orioles intending to take part in a ball tournament at Trail this week-end where a $1,000 first prize was the main attraction.

The tourney has been postponed indefinitely, however, so the Okanagan-Mainline league game billed for this Sunday will come off. Starting time is 2:30 p.m. in Elks Stadium.

In other OMBL games Sunday, Vernon goes to Penticton and Kamloops travels to Summerland.

In the B.C. Interior circuit, Kelowna Chiefs return last Sunday's visit with a game in Kamloops against the Monarchs; Rutland Adanacs are at home to the Revelstoke Spikes (game time is 2:30 p.m. in Rutland Park) and Princeton treks to North Kamloops.

Letters to the Editor

HOW STUPID CAN GROWERS GET
Summerland, B.C.

The Editor,
The Kelowna Courier.

Mr. Editor,—This letter is the result of the attitude of a number of growers towards our marketing system as administered by the Board of Governors of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited. Last week the Courier carried a resolution passed at a meeting of the Westbank local of the BCFGA, calling for the resignation of the governors and sales staff of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited.

We have in B.C. legislation that has made it possible to operate a controlled marketing scheme in the fruit industry which is the envy of thinking men in similar industries all over this continent. This marketing system is being used as a model by other parts of Canada and the United States. It has without any doubt played an important part in the prosperity of this valley. As a grower born and raised on an Okanagan orchard I shudder to think of the financial chaos we would have experienced if we had not had orderly marketing during the past season. This orderly marketing was administered for the industry by the very men some are now endeavoring to condemn.

The financial returns for the past season's soft fruit crop were in places very disappointing. Because of this many growers are prone to blame the first people that comes to mind, namely, our sales staff. It is far from my mind to maintain that B.C. Tree Fruits officials make no mistakes. They have made them in the past and will make them in the future. This is understandable when one realizes the multitude of problems calling for quick and careful decisions in the moving of a highly perishable product.

I fail to see where any harm was done during the past season that warrants the storm of adverse criticism raised during the past few weeks. The marketing agency was confronted with a very heavy crop of fruit, running heavy to sizes and quality that the consumer did not want. This fruit was in competition with a similar product from our neighbors from the south, but which fruit enjoyed lower transportation rates.

In addition to this the strength of the Canadian dollar in relation to the U.S. dollar eliminated any tariff protection. Also the general transportation picture in Canada has given the benefit to the Ontario producer to the detriment of the Okanagan producer. Consequently an important part of the prairie markets have been invaded by Ontario fruit. It would have taken a magician to sell all the fruit at top prices under last year's conditions.

The apple pool returns are now in the hands of the growers and in general should be satisfactory. However, had our sales organization weakened and taken the easy way out while a large part of the apple crop still remained to be moved, a quite different result could have been obtained. It takes courage to maintain a price under conditions of fairly heavy supply, and I sometimes wonder how long we can expect our selling organization to do its best in face of the continuous sniping which is taking place.

At the growers convention last January the main theme was soft fruit and how we as growers could correct the mistakes of last season, agreement practised. The comparison between fresh daily grazing and rotational grazing was well illustrated by the manner in which adjacent fields were grazed. Visitors inquired about the metal posts for the electric fence.

While still in the pasture, J. E. Miltimore outlined the pasture management practised. The comparison between fresh daily grazing and rotational grazing was well illustrated by the manner in which adjacent fields were grazed. Visitors inquired about the metal posts for the electric fence.

The group later assembled in the dairy barn to inspect the herd. The breeding, age, classification and R.O.P. records of each cow were posted above the appropriate stall. Many comments were made about the executive of the BCFGA and Summerland Standard Plo, who at the board of governors General Conference was shown in the officials of the B.C. Tree Fruits Limited. No Local time Butterfat Producer. Mr. and Mrs. E. Lacey, who bred her dam, attending the convention are your representatives and the time and place for contentious points to be discussed are at your local annual Club, outlining the advantages and purposes of the classification program and then illustrated the method used in classifying, while making campaign to belittle the work of the board of governors that a really "Good Plus."

mark has been made to the effect that the governors receive a commission on every box sold. It is only fair to point out that the Governors do not receive any stipend or commission but only receive a day's pay and expenses for Governor's meetings they attend. In addition they are required to attend the BCFGA local meetings, district council meetings, and meet delegates and industry representatives at any time. Some of the governors of Tree Fruits Limited have been doing this ever since the organization came into being at no personal gain to themselves. One certainly has to be philanthropic to donate this much personal time purely for the general betterment of the industry.

I as a grower with a stake in the future of this industry wish to express complete confidence in our board of governors and our sales staff with special reference to Mr. Lloyd and Mr. Lander. I would urge any grower with a problem or suggestion to take it first to his local of the BCFGA and have it thoroughly discussed. If he is still not satisfied with the answer he has obtained then he would ask his local to approach the board of governors with a view of his discussing the subject with that organization. It is only through thorough discussion that a problem can be properly resolved and very possibly to the benefit of the industry.

Respectfully submitted for continuing orderly marketing.
Yours truly,
ERIC M. TAIT.

Jersey breeders hold field day at Summerland

Members of the North Okanagan Jersey Breeders Club from Malakwa to Okanagan Mission, and visitors from the Fraser Valley, Vancouver Island and South Okanagan attended a field day at the Summerland Experimental Station.

An inspection of the plant, introduction nursery was the first item on the program. J. E. Miltimore outlined the purpose of the nursery and commented on some of the more interesting varieties of alfalfa and brome grass. A ladino cover crop in an adjacent orchard attracted much attention.

The visitors next inspected the nearly filled trench silo. The Paterson buck rake was demonstrated and there were many inquiries about this method of making silage. The advantages and disadvantages of this method as compared to the conventional upright silo were fully discussed. Later, alfalfa-brome silage from the upright silo was examined and found in excellent condition.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed on the lawn of the ornamental area, and A. J. Mann welcomed visitors, outlining the changes in the nature of experimental work since he had started to work at Summerland.

The group later re-assembled in the pasture field to hear Dr. Wilcox discuss soil moisture and irrigation schedules. One of the most interesting points of Dr. Wilcox's discussion centred around the feel of the soil when another irrigation is required.

While still in the pasture, J. E. Miltimore outlined the pasture management practised. The comparison between fresh daily grazing and rotational grazing was well illustrated by the manner in which adjacent fields were grazed. Visitors inquired about the metal posts for the electric fence.

The group later assembled in the dairy barn to inspect the herd. The breeding, age, classification and R.O.P. records of each cow were posted above the appropriate stall. count, the same trend will be continued in the other counts.
The tide seems to be running to Social Credit.

While not as pronounced as in South Okanagan, voters in the rest of the province apparently felt as did the voters in Mr. Bennett's own riding. The predominate reason for the trend to Social Credit was the desire for a stable government (voters had had more than enough of the barnyard squabble of the last session) coupled with the belief that of the three free enterprise parties the Social Credit was the only one which could obtain sufficient support to provide that stable government. This, rather than approval or endorsement of Social Credit policies, was the secret of the Social Credit strength, the reason the party jumped from 27 to 38 percent of the popular vote in one year.

The CCF will probably again be the official opposition. This party's share of the popular vote has remained virtually unchanged, indicating that it obtained the maximum socialist-inclined vote in this province. To gain more support it must wean voters away from the free enterprise parties.

The Liberals waged an aggressive campaign under the leadership of Mr. Laing and did have the satisfaction of increasing their former share of the popular vote by one percent to 24. How they will make out in elected members is in the lap of the gods—and the second choice votes. The Conservatives failed dismally. Almost all the Social Credit gain came from this party, which in the popular vote dropped from the 17 percent of a year ago to only five percent. It would seem that Mr. Bennett has persuaded the Conservatives that his party is now the Conservative party—what's in a name?—and, despairing of an effective vote in their own party, they flocked to his support. This is seen in the results in South Okanagan as it is in the remainder of the province. Whether or not the Conservative party can be resurrected into a force in provincial affairs in B.C. is a matter of very considerable doubt.

This leads to an interesting speculation. Twice Mr. Bennett ran for the leadership of the Conservative party and was turned down. What would have happened had three years ago, in his last attempt at the leadership, he been made Conservative leader? Certainly there would have been no Social Credit party in this province because, despite protests to the contrary, Mr. Bennett made that party. He WAS the party for months and it was he who drew good men to it and welded an organization together. It was he who flew the banner of martyrdom and it was he who donned the white mantle of the crusader. As his strength grew, it was his old party, the Conservatives, which felt the pressure until on Tuesday, Conservatives, to find a "home" had to give their support to him on whom they had turned the very cold shoulder three years earlier. Mr. Bennett has proven that he is no mean politician and certainly is no "flash in the pan," as he was dubbed by his erstwhile friends three years ago.

Mr. Bennett will probably lead the government for another term. It is to be hoped that he does not allow his natural, result-inspired enthusiasm to warp his normally good judgment. He and his candidates have been elected in order that this province may have sound and progressive government. There are many who supported him on Tuesday who would look askance at support for the party's funny-money-loving candidates in the forthcoming federal election. This newspaper believes that to retain the confidence of the provincial voters, Mr. Bennett's wing of the party should divorce itself from the party's economic theorists and avoid any suggestion of radical legislation. To do otherwise means loss of confidence and loss of support.

Proposed amendment to city zoning bylaw causes heated debate before bill withdrawn

A proposed amendment to the city zoning bylaw which would give council the power to grant permission for new and used car lots in any section of the city, caused a somewhat heated debate at council meeting Monday night. But when it was disclosed that council cannot grant a "temporary" permit under the zoning bylaw, the proposed amendment was withdrawn.

In submitting the proposed amendment, Ald. Bob Knox declared there is not a used car lot in the city that is being "operated legitimately under the zoning bylaw." Last week council turned down an application from Pollock Motors for permission to use a vacant lot on Lawrence Avenue.

PUBLIC OPINION
Mr. Knox said the amendment would give council the right to extend parking lots in any section of the city, but the council would be guided by public opinion. He said the proposed amendment had no bearing on the application which was turned down by council last week.

"Council could grant a temporary permit and each application could be considered on its own merits," he said.

Alderman Dick Parkinson said he would be in favor of extending the zone in certain areas, but not making it wide open. "The purpose

John J. Allen
passes away

John James Allen, 737, Martin
Avenue, died in hospital here Monday at the age of 75 years. Final rites were held this afternoon from the chapel of Day's Funeral Service Ltd., Rev. R. S. Leitch of First United Church officiating.

Burial was in Kelowna Cemetery.
Fall-bearers were: Messrs. W. Povey,
C. R. Morrison, J. Andrews, E. Nichol,
G. Foster and G. Wardlaw.
A native of Ireland, the late Mr. Allen came to Canada as a young man, settling on the prairies where he was in business for many years. Operator of a general store in Pleasantdale, Sask., he retired in 1944. Mr. and Mrs. Allen resided in Vancouver four years before coming to Kelowna five years ago. He was a member of the A.O.T.S. club of the United Church.

Besides his wife, Mariel, he leaves one son, Clifford, in Armstrong, and two daughters—Beth at home and Lola in Calgary. One grandchild also survives. A son Frank was killed with the RCAF in World War II.

Hold funeral services for crash victim

Funeral service was held this afternoon for William James Hackman of Rutland, victim of an auto accident south of Vernon Saturday night. Rev. J. A. Petrie conducted the rites from the United Church in Rutland. Burial was in Kelowna Cemetery.

Born in Vernon 24 years ago, the late Mr. Hackman leaves his wife, Irma in Rutland and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hackman in Vernon. One brother, Michael, Quesnel, B.C., and two sisters, Mrs. Doris Pawlyshyn, Vernon and Olga, also in Vernon, also survive.

Day's Funeral Service Ltd. was in charge of arrangements.

Former Alberta
man, Henry Morin, dies in hospital

Final rites will be held Saturday at 2:00 p.m. for Henry Morin, 888 Wilson Avenue, who died in Kelowna General Hospital Wednesday. He was 80 years of age and a resident of the city for 10 years, moving here from Bashaw, Alta.

Rev. W. S. Angel will conduct the rites in the chapel of Day's Funeral Service Ltd. Interment will be in Kelowna Cemetery.

A staunch worker with the Free Methodist Church, the late Mr. Morin was born in Quebec and farmed several years at Bashaw before returning to Kelowna. He leaves his wife, Agnes, and one son, Fred, Kelowna, and two daughters, Mrs. W. (Mary) Payne, Kelowna, and Mrs. P. (Winifred) Madsen, also of Kelowna. Ten grandchildren, a brother in Northern Alberta and a brother and sister in Quebec also survive.

of zoning is to keep certain business in certain areas," he said. He cited churches as an example. "Under this proposal, you would be throwing everything wide open. You may as well include service stations and grocery stores," he said.

The discussion developed into a two-way debate between Ald. Knox and Ald. Parkinson. Mayor J. J. Allen said he was refraining from taking part in the discussion "for obvious reasons."

Then City Clerk George Dunn interpreted the zoning bylaw from the legal standpoint. His remark virtually stopped further discussion.

WITHDRAWS AMENDMENT

Mr. Dunn said if the bylaw was amended, council has not the power to grant a "temporary permit."

"That throws a different light on the situation," remarked Ald. Parkinson, and Mr. Knox agreed. The latter then withdrew the amendment and said he would give the matter further study.

Before the debate ended, Ald. Parkinson remarked that the zoning bylaw "is a tough thing to deal with and should be carefully studied before any changes are made."

Active worker of Westbank
district dies

Westbank lost a friend and a pioneer worker yesterday when Mrs. Christina Tolhurst, wife of C. J. Tolhurst, died in Kelowna Monday at the age of 70.

She had been an active community worker ever since coming to the central Okanagan in 1909.

Born in Scotland, she and her first husband, M. Russell, planted one of the first orchards in Westbank upon arriving there. Mr. Russell died in 1926 and in 1930 she married Charles John Tolhurst.

She assisted in the setting up of the first public library in Westbank and was a staunch member of the Women's Institute and of the Westbank United Church women's association, being a past president of both.

During World War II, the late Mrs. Tolhurst, though on in years, headed a committee that sent parcels to Westbank soldiers overseas.

She leaves a host of friends who join with her relatives in mourning her loss.

Surviving are her husband, one son, Edward, in Penticton, four grandchildren and two nephews—A. Cruickshank, Vancouver, and J. Kethel, Scotland.

Funeral service will be held from the Westbank United Church Sunday at 2:00 p.m. Rev. H. H. Harris officiating. Interment will be in Westbank cemetery, under direction of Day's Funeral Service Ltd.

First family reunion in 17 years observed at local home as four generations attend celebration

The first family reunion in 17 years was cause for celebration over the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Black. Their guests included four generations in the persons of Mr. Black's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Black of Mora, Minnesota; a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin G. Black and three children of Nelson and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. Morris and son of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Black, 85 and 82 years respectively, arrived here by car and left Tuesday to travel back to Minnesota the same way.

Both are amazingly spry and have exceptional use of their faculties. Back home, they are keenly interested in community affairs and between them they maintain a half-acre "rubber farm," devoted to sweet corn in the summer and have one of the most well kept yards in the area.

Before settling down, they did a lot of travelling, crossing all the way from the Gulf of Mexico to Kerrobert, Sask.

Mr. Black was born at Oskaloosa, Iowa, in March, 1868, and Mrs. Black is a native of Richland County, Neb., born in 1871. They moved to within a mile and a half of each other in Polk County, Iowa and walks home from a country school led to their marriage in 1891 at Runnells, Iowa. They will celebrate their 62nd wedding anniversary come Christmas eve.

Four years after their marriage, they moved to Texarkana, Texas, where they built a home and farmed for several years. Then they moved near Lake Charles, La., where Mr. Black raised rice and reaped a bad case of malaria for his efforts. Taking doctors' advice, they moved north, back to Iowa, but not before Mr. Black took time out to go duck-hunting. At that time there was no bag limit in Louisiana, and he came back with 24 ducks that he got with a 10 gauge Remington double barrel gun and two shots.

Around 1909, seven families in Runnells contemplated a move into the prairie lands of Saskatchewan and the Blacks decided to go with them. During their stay here, Mr. Black took an active part in sports activities and on the more serious side, he was the first to bring Holsteins into the Kerrobert district, in 1910. He was also reeve in Mariposa.

For the past 27 years, the Blacks have stayed in Kanabec county and for the past two years, Mr. Black has brought home the prizes for being the oldest ice fisherman in the derbies. As well as farming 83 acres, Mr. Black holds the car-penter trade for 20 of those years.

FEW REUNIONS

Family reunions have been few and far between with the family scattered all the way from Kentucky to Alaska. One of the Blacks' three sons, Clarence, is working on the Alcan highway and Frank is in the furniture business at Danville, Ky.

Their third son, Acland, is proprietor of Black's Motors out on Pendozi Street and two daughters are in the states.

They also have seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Okan. community concerts' groups gets membership

Last week-end saw the conclusion of a successful week's membership campaign of the recently formed South Okanagan Community Concerts Association, with subscribed memberships totalling the seating capacity of the Penticon High School auditorium. This makes Penticon the first city in Western Canada to join the Community Concerts plan which assures four concerts by internationally celebrated artists in the Okanagan valley during the 1953-54 season.

A large number of citizens and pros in eastern Canada have had Community Concert Associations for many seasons.

The wide appeal of the concert series is evidenced by subscriptions received from distant points such as Grand Forks and Princeton. Residents of the latter town took 30 subscriptions while canvassers in Summerland sent in over 60 memberships.

Immediately following the closing of the membership campaign, a board of 20 met to select artists for the series. At present, the program is tentative subject to confirmation by Columbia Artists but it is hoped to commence the series with the appearance of the Longines Symphonette in October. Conducted by Michael Piastro, the 30 piece symphonette has been selected four times by the music editors and critics of the daily newspapers of the United States and Canada as radio's foremost concert ensemble. It is hoped the next artist will be Carol Brice, the distinguished negro contralto, in November. The third concert, in late February, will be by Herman God, brilliant European pianist, and the series will close with the famed Metropolitan tenor, Eugene Conley.

Subscribers will receive programs as soon as confirmation of these engagements is received.

Plan annual dance following success of coronation ball

The Coronation motif of the decorations set over 300 dancing to the music of Pettinger's orchestra at the Coronation Ball, sponsored by the Junior Hospital Auxiliary at the Royal Anne Hotel.

The happy hubbub which lasted till the wee hours gave evidence of a reluctance to go home and a rise to the thought that another such dance would find the crowd returning.

It may not be another Coronation Ball but the Junior Hospital Auxiliary plans to make this social success an annual affair. Successful financially as well, proceeds of the ball will buy essential equipment for the local hospital not provided under the BCHHS.

Prior to the party, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McLaughlin entertained on behalf of the auxiliary. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Montell, representing the hospital board.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Goldsmith, 447 Waddlawn, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Ivy Sheila, to Mr. Frederick George Mies of Rutland, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Mies, of Prince George.

The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents on Monday, June 15, at 2.30 p.m. Rev. D. M. Perley will officiate.

HERE FOR WEEK-END ... was Mr. R. B. Scott of Vancouver, formerly of Kelowna. Mr. Scott was visiting with his family, 455 Park Avenue, who will be joining him in the coast city in a few weeks.

Hither and Yon

ENTERTAINED PRIOR TO DANCE ... Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Walrod entertained a number of guests prior to the opening dance of the Aquatic season last night at their home at 1858 Pendozi Street, while Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pitt were hosts to another party.

HERE THIS WEEK ... Dr. J. A. Rankine was visiting in Kelowna for a couple of days this week.

BRIDE-ELECT ... Miss Alma Lansdowne, whose marriage to Mr. Clarence Moore takes place Saturday, June 13, was honored Friday evening with a linen shower held at the home of Miss Barbara Edwards. Co-hostesses were Miss Margaret Heitzman and Miss Donna Robertson.

Included in the guests were Mrs. A. E. Lansdowne, Mrs. Frank Maxson, Mrs. K. Bruce, Mrs. A. Edwards, Miss Lorraine Sheffield, Miss Iona Schuster, Miss Enid Schuster, Miss Marg Quasnik, Miss Dauna Miller and Miss Taffy Jackson.

Following the presentation of gifts, dainty refreshments were served.

HOLIDAYING IN STATES ... Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Meikle left by car on Sunday for a couple of weeks' holiday travelling in the States.

CONVENTION DELEGATE ... Mr. and Mrs. W. Spear returned last week from a trip to the Kootenays, Spokane and Yakima. Mrs. Spear was the Kelowna delegate to the Nelson Diocesan Convention of the Catholic Women's League held in Creston May 29-30.

ADMINISTRATIVE COURSE ... Miss Helen dePuyffler leaves tomorrow for the University of Washington at Seattle where she will take a year's administrative dietitian training course. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max dePuyffler, will drive her down and return home Sunday.

SHORT HOLIDAY ... Mrs. O. Curtis left this morning for Vancouver where she will visit for a few days as guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark. She will return home Tuesday.

AMERICAN NEIGHBORS ... Jim Wynne, Bud Grey and Jim Emerson, from the destroyer escort ship "McCoy Reynolds," stationed at Honolulu, spent part of their month's leave in Kelowna. Wednesday they were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. L. dePuyffler and the following day they were the guests of Misses Bernice and Jean Coutts.

The visitors were hosts at a dinner party Saturday at the Eldorado Arms, where they entertained Mrs. L. dePuyffler, Miss Alice dePuyffler, Miss Marie dePuyffler and Misses Jean and Bernice Coutts.

They left Tuesday to spend the remainder of their leave with their parents and friends in the United States.

Club notes

PARCEL AUCTION ... The Mother's Auxiliary to the Kelowna Junior Band will sponsor a fashion show of clothes made in the home economics classes and a parcel auction in the Senior High auditorium on June 17. Tea will be served.

HANDIWORK SALE ... A sale of handiwork by the senior citizens will be held at the Lloyd-Jones Home on Wednesday, June 24, from 2.00-4.00 p.m. Tea will be served.

SOROPTIMISTS ... The Soroptimist Club of Kelowna will hold its monthly dinner meeting on Monday, June 15, at the Royal Anne Hotel, at 6.15 p.m.

AUXILIARY MEETS ... The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Kelowna Aquatic will meet in the Aquatic lounge Monday, June 15, at 8.00 p.m. New members welcome.

STRAWBERRY SOCIAL ... The Catholic Women's League will hold a strawberry social at St. Joseph's hall on Wednesday, June 24, 2.30 to 5.30. Everyone is welcome.

Junior band has exciting program arranged for tomorrow's concert

The Kelowna Junior Band should be in top form tomorrow evening. Not only because it has been rehearsing at every available opportunity but also, because its program for the third annual concert is one which will please every person in the audience, at one time or another. The selections will be new, just as will be the performance of them and a characteristic that the band has acquired in its short years together, is to play a piece best the first time it plays it for the public.

One unique feature which will undoubtedly win acclaim is a piano solo by Marietta Anderson, with full instrumental accompaniment in the well-known and much loved "Dream of Olwen." Another will be Schubert's "Ave Maria."

"Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming" is one of Stephen Foster's lesser known works and not to be outdone is the Russian folk song, "Dark Eyes."

OMINOUS UNDERTONES ... "Jungle Magic" portrays in music vivid contrasts and emotions. It paints a panorama of moods and motion, sights and sound, combined with ominous undertones and the unexpected, leaving the listener with the desire to know more of this perennial enigma and perhaps to venture forth on an imaginative journey of his own. This is a composition, by Harold L. Walters. Selections from Tschalkowsky will include Concerto in B flat minor, Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairies, and March Slave, among others. Various instrumental combinations will be featured in some of the numbers. John Steele will solo on the clarinet in "Donkey Serenade" while "Maleguena," a Spanish composition originally written for the piano, will be taken over by an instrumental quartet of Bill Hoveman, Miles Treadgold, Lloyd Morin and Bill McCarthy, accompanied by Joan Carlson. Georgiana and John Steele with Marilyn Sladen, on the French horn, flute and clarinet, will treat "Calm as the Night." No band concert is complete without one or two marches. Tomorrow evening's concert includes two famous Sousa marches, "The Thunderer March" and "Washington Post March," and who can resist the rhythm of "Macnamara's Band" — certainly not those in the audience tomorrow night who will see an entirely original production of it.

School auditorium
for "grad" dance

Super-deluxe decorations transformed the auditorium of Kelowna Senior High school into an under-water paradise for the graduation ball, commemorating the term of 1952-53. Colored lights played rhythmically on the rippling blue waves of streamers cascading above and glittered on the tiny fish and mermaids wiggling between the fishing nets and below while Ogopogo bannered "Good Luck, Grads."

Lady-of-the-Lake Kathy Archibald also added to the attractiveness, escorted by Lorne Greenaway. Other couples seen twirling in and out of the crowd of merry-makers were Sydney Kelly and Gordon Caldwell, Valerie Winter and Peter Reigh, Vera Abetko and Ross Newman, Jimmy Pollard and Loretta Bengert, Faye Weeks and Tommy Bebb, Linda Ghezzi and Roger Tait, Don McKenzie and Beverly Rees, Lois Underhill and Johnny Culos, Angie Zibitoff and Bob Wolfe, Jenny Thomas and Bruce Brydon, Bruce Butcher with Barbara Ann Lander, Bernice Coutts and Ed Bengert, Ralph dePuyffler and Margaret McCormick, Chas Downing and Patsy Hume, Beth Spall and Jim Scantland, Sally Turlton and Dave Wiens, Barbara Herget and Glen Mervyn, Mary Ann Kane and Norman Gri, Alice dePuyffler and Don Bennett, Diane Fleck and Harvey Marking, Shirley Murdin and Maurice Bourke, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall, Eleanor Anderson and Brian Willows, Donna Ainsley and Rudy Moyer, Betty Birch and Grant Fumerton, Audrey Birch and Doug Mervyn, Doreen Campbell and Bill Herbert, Helen Bengert and Ed Turner, Audrey James and Royce Moore, Sybil Rabone and Bill Benzer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxson, Joyce Warren and Clive Gilchrist, Bernice Pettigrew and Pete McNaughton, Dinny Pollard and Milton Weiss, Marietta Anderson and Ray Beak, Phyllis Yarechuk and Johnny Bauer, Sally Abramyk and Johnny Zvanich, Mr. and Mrs. J. Doell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bruce.

Among those who entertained at parties before or after the dance were Miss Lois Underhill, Miss Alice dePuyffler, Miss Phyllis Yarechuk, Miss Val Winter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxson at cake parties, Roger Tait at a beach party and Jean Blifford and Don McKenzie at breakfast parties. Dinny Pollard was hostess to a punch party prior to the banquet.

East Kelowna girl gives impressions of dress rehearsal for coronation

(Editor's Note—The following narrative of impressions from the dress rehearsal of the Coronation in London was written by Miss Eileen Graham, daughter of Mrs. R. T. Graham of East Kelowna and studying in England on a scholarship she won. Miss Graham's letter to her mother describing her reactions and what she saw during "one of the most exciting things of my life" are believed of interest to many. With that in mind the Courier is publishing Miss Graham's letter.)

London, Friday, May 30
Lying flat out, exhausted, after being at one of the most exciting things of my life—the dress rehearsal at Westminster Abbey—with Lady F. bless her heart. She can't go "properly" this time, among the peers and peeresses as last time, because her husband is not well enough. Wasn't it sweet of her to ask me!

I walked up to the house at a quarter to eight this morning and drove down with Lady F. and Lady Jean.
London, very quiet, and very little traffic. Arrived at the Abbey at 8:00 a.m. and drove up to the entrance after a couple of carriages had unloaded their passengers; presented our cards to the footman in court livery (black velvet lace, knee breeches) and were escorted to excellent seats where we saw everything.

The ushers were perfectly charming and helpful, and of course everything very discreet and well-ordered. Usual garden party types, topers, etc. Half the ushers were in full dress uniform as gold staff officers; some in court livery, some in dress kilts (Gordon Highlander near us with the most magnificent caltgorm I have ever seen) and some in the Scottish Archers uniform (feather 15 inches long and the red tuft of wool at the side for wiping their enemy's blood off their arrows!).

STAND OR KNEEL
Lady F. said wistfully, "Lord F. was in the archers; he looked so well in uniform." She herself arrived looking the last word in elegance, at that time in the morning, and casually mentioned her plans for entertaining her seven grand-children on sitting room floor on Coronation Day!

I feel rather whacked—you stand the whole time except when you are kneeling! One of the maids of honor had to be passed the smelling salts; and one of the heralds hit the dust with a resounding "clank" on the back of his head.

But what a show! And what a genius England has for it, and aplomb to carry it off. Sir Malcolm Sargent, Sir Laurence Olivier and Christopher Fry sat two rows in front of us. Sir M., with red carnation and a healthy tan, blew kisses ecstatically to a friend! He and Sir L. kept up a torrent of conversation, while Christopher Fry sat completely silent.

I'd have given a lot to know what word-images and phrases were leaping up in his mind with that scene in front of him. They'll doubtless come to life in some play in months to come. And what a scene it was, from the rosaceous

Okanagan lake still claims body of man

OKANAGAN CENTRE—The waters of Okanagan Lake have not yet yielded the body of W. F. Dehnke who was drowned recently when the boat in which he was fishing overturned in a wind squall.

Mr. Dehnke with his wife have been residents of Okanagan Centre since 1946 when they moved from Busby, Alberta, where they had lived for 40 years.

Born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in 1882, he came to Canada in his early twenties and was married in Edmonton. Left to mourn his loss besides his widow are one daughter, Mrs. E. T. Walker, of Mercoal, Alberta; three sons, Lloyd, of Busby; John at Winfield, and Gordon, Okanagan Centre; and twelve grandchildren.

Artist who painted scenery in Kelowna's former opera house visits Okanagan

An artist, whose work now hangs in the White House, Washington, and in the palace of the King of Norway, last week recalled the winter of 1906-07 which he spent at Okanagan Landing and in Vernon.

Getting down to mundane matters, artist Paul Lauritz, of Los Angeles, Calif., said he had his first barber shop shave in Vernon, "way back when Barnard Avenue was a dirt road, and the sidewalks (so-called) a set of three horizontal planks."

However, Mr. Lauritz appeared to look back happily on those early years. He recalled also that Okanagan Lake was frozen that winter, and skating parties were enjoyed on the ice.

Mr. Lauritz was commissioned to paint ornamental designs on the walls of the ladies' lounge, smoking and dining rooms of the S.S. "Okanagan." In 1909 he painted scenery in Kelowna's former opera house. It is said that a marine scene from these decorations was cut, framed, and now hangs in one of the schools located in or around the orchard city.

Mr. Lauritz stayed in the B.C. Interior and Alberta until 1910.

Meanwhile, Vancouver was enjoying a real estate boom, and he applied his brush and artistic talents to the painting of bird's eye views of townships for display purposes.

His brothers were well known in the Kootenays. One was a buyer for Pat Burns and Company, another brother, who went to Nelson about 1900, died in 1937. He dealt in cattle and mining stocks.

A native of Norway, Mr. Lauritz came to Kaslo, British Columbia, in 1905, bringing with him a box of paints given him by his mother.

As a boy, he wanted to be a musician, and said he would "steal" a violin from members of his family and play it on the quiet.

But, he was told, there was no money in following the arts, and was urged to forget it, which he did; but took up painting instead. His first teacher was an Englishman, and he started to paint in Norway 54 years ago.

Mr. Lauritz brought to Vernon with him, several of his oil paintings, each 24 by 34 inches.

Included in the collection were pictures of the Nevada desert, close to Death Valley; a scene depicting the first snow of winter in Eastern Oregon, with the foliage still on the trees; two seascapes, one of the Atlantic on the coast of Maine, the other of the Pacific Ocean at Carmel, Calif., which showed the rock on which Amy Semple McPherson was alleged to have tried to take her own life. There was also a picture of the Arizona desert. All were lovely scenes, and glowed brightly under the soft clouds or clear skies. They breathed the freshness of outdoors, and combined naturalness and decorative charm.

Today, Mr. Lauritz's work has been recognized by the world's great. He is internationally known as an artist and lecturer, and has been featured on a television program. He has received 75 medals and awards for his work, which has been exhibited throughout the United States, including the Carnegie Art Institute.

In addition to his work, Mr. Lauritz has served on the Los Angeles Municipal Art Commission for six years, being vice-president for part of that time, and is a past president of the California Art Club.

In Vernon, the artist and his wife were indefinite as to their destination, but Mr. Lauritz had one keen desire. It was to paint "the snow mountains. My home is where my hat hangs..." he declared.

If a picture is good, a customer will always be found, he said. His paintings are placed through Robert C. Vose, of Boston, Mass., the oldest established gallery in America; and also through the American Art Guild Inc. of Carmel Calif.

Mr. Lauritz spoke thoughtfully about Okanagan and Kalamalka Lakes. When asked if he might paint some local scenes, he was non-committal, but admitted the individuality and beauty of the long-remembered Okanagan Valley.

More About
2 Bennett pledges

There's no doubt about it; we'll make substantial gains on the second, third and fourth counts.

He is particularly interested in the outcome of two of his cabinet ministers, Mrs. Tillie Rolston and Einar Gunderson. Outcome of voting for these two candidates will not be known until the ballots are counted at the end of this month.

The Liberals made an all-out attack to seat their leader, he said of the Vancouver Point Grey race between Art Lalng and Education Minister Mrs. Rolston. "Her showing was remarkable and shows the confidence the people of Point Grey have in this government."

Of Mr. Gunderson, he said "He took over one of the most difficult seats (Oak Bay) and there's no doubt he'll be elected. The Liberal organization in Greater Victoria is now completely broken."

LIQUOR LEGISLATION

Elaborating on the implementation of a new liquor law and the Rolston education formula, Mr. Bennett said "We'll bring up first the legislation that the combined opposition vetoed at the last session. Education comes first and we'll deal with liquor, too."

The Rolston formula, which among other things would set 1952 as the "basic year" for all future cost reckoning, brought about the downfall of the Social Credit government last April. It was defeated by the combined opposition and one Social Credit member, Bert Price, of Vancouver Burrard.

One of the first things Mr. Bennett did was to pay tribute to the three defeated candidates in this riding. "I just want to say they carried on a clean campaign—a clean campaign that has always been noted in this constituency," he said.

man until after midnight making statements to the press and speaking over radio networks.

CONCEDE ELECTION

The three opposition candidates, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Wilkinson and Mrs. Weddell were ready to concede Mr. Bennett's election about one hour and 45 minutes after the polls closed. They admitted it was a personal triumph for Mr. Bennett, who has represented this riding since 1941 except for a few months when he resigned his seat to contest a federal by-election.

With the possibility of a federal election this fall, the old line party organizers are not letting Tuesday's set-back at the polls interfere with an active federal campaign. The Conservatives already plan holding a meeting tomorrow night to make preliminary plans for the Okanagan Boundary riding campaign.

better informed citizenship.

"I feel sure all your taxpayers feel glad that they, through your action, had some little hand in bringing to our citizens and their children, such a grand celebration of the crowning of our beloved Sovereign Queen Elizabeth II."

WITHIN BUDGET

Ald. Jackson said the city will just about come within the amount allocated for the celebration. Council had approved the expenditure of $1,000. Most of this money was earmarked for the Kelowna Little Theatre—the group which staged the "Crown Imperial" pageant. Money was used to purchase or rent costumes, and for the stage settings.

Mayor Ladd commended Ald. Jackson for the way he had organized the coronation committee. Ald. Parkinson said he had heard "nothing but the highest praise from citizens. It was indeed a credit to Kelowna, and it made one feel proud to be an alderman in a city which can put on such a good show," he said.

"That's what I can't get over. It's the wonderful co-operation we have in this city," added Mayor Ladd.

Lou Meyers, holder of world's racing record will compete in Kelowna classic during regatta July 30-31, August 1

At least 150 entries are expected in the first sanctioned power boat racing in the western division of the Canadian Boating Federation, which will be run-off July 30, 31 and August 1 at the 47th International Kelowna Regatta.

According to Dr. Gordon Wilson of Kelowna, director of the western division of the CBF, there will be at least 15 boats from California and five junior gold cuppers. Lou Meyers, who holds the world's record for the 48 cubic inch, will be racing in Kelowna.

The courses on Lake Okanagan will be officially surveyed before and after the races, under the direction of 1000 ft. of British Columbia department of public works. Stop-watch timing will be used, and any records made at this first sanctioned power boat race west of the Great Lakes, will stand on this continent.

CANADIAN RECORD

Art Jones, of Kelowna, the 72-year-old builder and racer of boats, will try for the Canadian record in "E. Class"—closed course, in his "Miss Kelowna" runabout, powered with an overhead Mercury block. Jones now holds the Wilson trophy for the fastest boat owned on Lake Okanagan.

Registration in all events will close Wednesday, July 29 at 9:00 a.m. All racers must wear crash helmets and approved racing life jackets. Too, they must show their 1953 registration in the Canadian Boating Federation or the American Power Boat Association, and the registration of their boat.

Assisting Dr. Wilson in running off the races will be: Harold August, racing committee chairman; Andy Olrich, executive vice-chairman; Jack Coops, chairman of starter and timing committee; Gordon Finch, racing pit director, assisted by Harry Mitchell and Don Day; Mabel Hall, registrar; Bill Knowles, billeting; Darby Hayes, patrol and crash boats; Ken Johnson and Freda Woodhouse, publicity; Roger Sasseville and Harold Wightman, general facilities; Hugh Earle, finance.

Purses in the races total $1200.

Here is a scene which will be duplicated many times at the first sanctioned power boat races to be held in Western Canada, at the 47th International Kelowna Regatta, July 30, 31, August 1. This photograph shows Art Jones of Kelowna in his runabout "Miss Kelowna," with which he won the Wilson trophy for the fastest boat owned on Lake Okanagan in 1952. Jiggs Mauriello of Trail, B.C. in "Teaser II" and Jimmy Hutchinson of Vancouver in "Teaser III." Both "Teasers" belong to Hutchinson, and it is expected he will enter at least two boats in the meet this summer on Lake Okanagan.

Link with the past broken in the death of W. D. Walker

By H. V. "PADDY" ACLAND

With the death of W. D. Walker, another link with the past has been broken, for truly he was one of the "Old Timers" left in this district.

William Dalziel Walker arrived in the Okanagan Valley in the year 1894 and became a farm pupil of Edward Bullock-Webster at Keremeos. After working there for a few years, he came to the Kelowna district and purchased some 250 acres south of the Thomson homestead and north of what is now known as the Bellevue Hotel at Okanagan Mission. This land he bought in partnership with the late W. D. Hobson. The land at that time was the property of the Roman Catholic Mission which was then situated near the Casorso Bridge.

In those days there was only one approach to this district through Benvenuto, and over a corduroy bridge immediately south-east of the Casorso property. Here he became extremely active in all local matters. Among other things he started and captained the Mission Cricket Club, which at that time was a very able team, supported by the large number of young Englishmen who at that time were settling in this district. He also was a great supporter of all aquatic sports and for many years judged the diving at the regatta.

CLEARED LAND

He married Dorothea, daughter of the late G. R. Thomson who owned property on both sides of his and the Hobson estate. A large part of this property was completely covered in scrub brush, and it is a credit to both these gentlemen that they cleared and developed the bottom land which is now extremely good farming property.

At the time of his marriage he built a large house with an extremely attractive garden fronting on the present Mission main road. This house became the home and meeting place of many new arrivals to the district.

"W. D." and his young wife kept open house and were always particularly kind to the "greenhorn." From his house started many of the horse paperhangers, so popular at that time. Also at this house were held cricket, school, church and political meetings and later meetings of the fruit committees.

At the end of his property, on the lake, he built a small summer cottage which he put at the disposal of his friends.

LARGE PROPERTY

Mr. Walker was educated at St. Edward's School, Oxford, and was brought up with the idea that he himself would join the church. However, he did not feel fitted for the priesthood. He was a member of the Anglican Church in England, his whole outlook was associated with the length and breadth of a large piece of land, which probably accounts for the fact that he secured such a large property and held it for so long. Between them, he and Hobson owned some mile and a half of lake frontage.

Shortly before the first war he moved down to the lake shore and enlarged this summer home into his present house. When he did this he cut out of the bush what in later years became the Eldorado Road. One would think that it would have been better to preserve the name of the "Old Timers" by calling this road after him as he was the man who built it.

In the latter part of his life he

Okanagan 4-H clubs plan field day at Armstrong

Of interest to young farmers' and to members of the Okanagan-Mainline 4-H Club is the announcement that the annual field day for the club will be held at the Armstrong Fair Grounds June 13 (this Saturday), starting at 10:00 a.m. All 4-H members in the Okanagan and Kamloops district are invited to attend.

Classes will be judged in dairy, beef, swine, poultry and perhaps one or two other projects. Those attending should bring a basket lunch; beverage will be supplied.

New Mexico is the only state in which the humidity is as low in winter as it is in summer.

became very interested in uniting the fruit industry, and many hours of meetings were put in at his house by the fathers of this federation. He spared neither himself nor his own interests to further this organization which has now become the heart and pulse of the fruit industry throughout the interior. He was also one of the senior fruit inspectors for many years and his opinion must have been considered valuable because he was sent from this district for two sessions to teach the Nova Scotia fruit farmers our ways of packing, wrapping and handling apples.

For 39 years he served as school trustee. In those days was an entirely voluntary position. Being a trustee apparently in those days did not mean only attending meetings, but lighting the fires in the school in winter, and ploughing the road to enable the children to get to school.

I am sure it will be felt by many of the Old Timers that, although, in the last few years, owing to ill health, he rather faded like so many into the background, he will be a great loss to the district. One of the things we should feel is that it was a pity that he was not able to have written a considerable amount into the history of the early Okanagan.

SENSE OF HUMOR

He had a tremendous sense of humor, and always when conversing with him of just days he was full of good stories. A good deal of information about the early part of this district and of the South Okanagan has been lost with him.

The attributes we will remember most were his kindness and happiness. Coupled with a wonderful sense of humor was his ability to see some good in everything. I think one can quote Heyward to finish this account of a good and kind citizen of the Mission.

"Compassionate the mountains rise,
Dim with the wistful dimness of old eyes
That, having looked on life time out of mind,
Know that the simple gift of being kind
Is greater than all wisdom of the wise."
(DuBose Heyward)

TREAT FOR FEET! A new process puts stretch into nylon yarns just as though they were elasticized... makes possible these socks for men that always fit perfectly. There's less chance of buying wrong sizes now that nylon "stretch" socks are available. Just two or three basic sizes fit all sized feet from very small to extra large.

CROW CONTROL during the spring provides hunting thrills for this lad, as well as being a good protective measure for the more useful forms of wildlife. During the off-season, more and more experienced hunters, too, find that shooting gophers, groundhogs, magpies and other pests as well as the wily crow helps to keep their eye "sharp" for the fall hunting season. C-I-L makes dependable ammunition for this popular sport.

Respond to emergency blood appeal

Nineteen persons responded a week ago to the emergency call for blood to build up the local bank. Mrs. J. H. Horn, local blood bank chairman, reports.

The emergency call was necessitated by the shortage of supply in the pool at Vancouver. When this was depleted no further supplies could be obtained from this source for the use of the local hospital. As it happened calls from the local hospital in this period were above normal and it was necessary to make the emergency call to enable the local hospital to carry out its work.

At the last visit of the unit to Kelowna a record number of donations were made and several donors were turned away because of the shortage of containers. As always, this blood goes to the central pool in Vancouver, from which the local hospital draws its weekly requirements. The current incident gives strength to the impression that Vancouver does not supply enough for its own needs and draws from interior points such as Kelowna.

May was warmer than average

Comparing the monthly weather report for last month with the 35-year average, shows May, 1953, was slightly warmer than the average and a little drier.

Average temperature last month was 55.97; the average for the 35-year period is 55. Precipitation last month was .59 of an inch; the 35-year average is .95 of an inch.

The monthly report, prepared by R. P. Walrod, official weather observer, shows variations of temperature from a high of 78 (twice) to a frost-free low in the city of 34 (three times). Mean high for the month was 58.97; mean low was 42.97.

In Joe Rich Valley, where Mrs. Mary Weddell is the official weather observer, precipitation was heavier as well as the means being lower. Precipitation amounted to 1.89 inches, including one inch of snow, which reckoned in water inches is .1 (one inch of snow is equivalent to one-tenth of an inch of water).

Frost was common during the May nights in Joe Rich, the freezing point or lower being touched on 14 separate nights. The lowest reading was 25 (three times); the highest 78 (twice).

Municipal heads disturbed by action of public utilities

PENTICTON—Action of the Public Utilities Commission in ordering the city of Vernon to supply water to a resident outside the corporate boundaries of the municipality was described as "smacking of dictatorship" by Alderman Wilson Hunt at the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipalities meeting held in Penticton.

The 33 delegates from all parts of the Okanagan listened intently while Mayor A. C. Wilde, of Vernon, told of the PUC decision and warned that the action might have far reaching effects on other centers.

The PUC decision is being contested at law and, because the matter is sub judice, no action was taken by the association.

Mayor Wilde explained that a man, living outside the Vernon city limits, had applied for water service from the Vernon council. This was refused. The man applied to the PUC and Vernon was ordered to supply the service.

"If this sort of thing continues some centres could be stuck and stuck proper," the Vernon mayor warned.

Mayor Game, of Armstrong, reported that Armstrong supplied Spallumcheen but added that the centre is not bound to do so if there is not sufficient water.

H. G. Andrew, city clerk of Penticton, declared that, according to law, any city supplying persons outside its boundaries becomes a public utility and therefore comes under the jurisdiction of the PUC.

Vernon's refusal, Mayor Wilde explained, was on the grounds of water shortage. "We supply others outside the municipality but they have been warned that if there is a water shortage they will be the first to be cut off," he said.

Alderman Hunt expressed his consternation. "I am very disturbed by this report. It smacks of dictatorship," he declared.

At last week's Kelowna City Council meeting, the matter was briefly discussed, and it was pointed out the situation in this city is somewhat different. In Kelowna, the city's licence refers to pumping water from the lake and supplying water to Glenmore. Therefore no other rural communities come under this category.

Delegates discuss arena tax in private

What was expected to be the feature discussion of the Okanagan Valley Municipalities meeting here last week was cut short and the discussion of the topic was held in private after the meeting closed.

The subject of the reduction of the 17 1/2 percent amusement tax, now claimed by the provincial government for shows in civic arenas, seemed headed for a full discussion, but Mayor A. C. Wilde, of Vernon, suggested that the matter should be filed and discussed with him privately.

No indication of the mayor's reasons for his action was given.

The question of the tax arose when Penticton delegates, acting on a suggestion contained in a letter from Trail, tried to open discussion on the matter.

At present any shows or performances staged in an arena are subject to the 17 1/2 percent unless staged by a non-profit group for charitable, religious or patriotic purposes. Such shows are subject to a five percent tax.

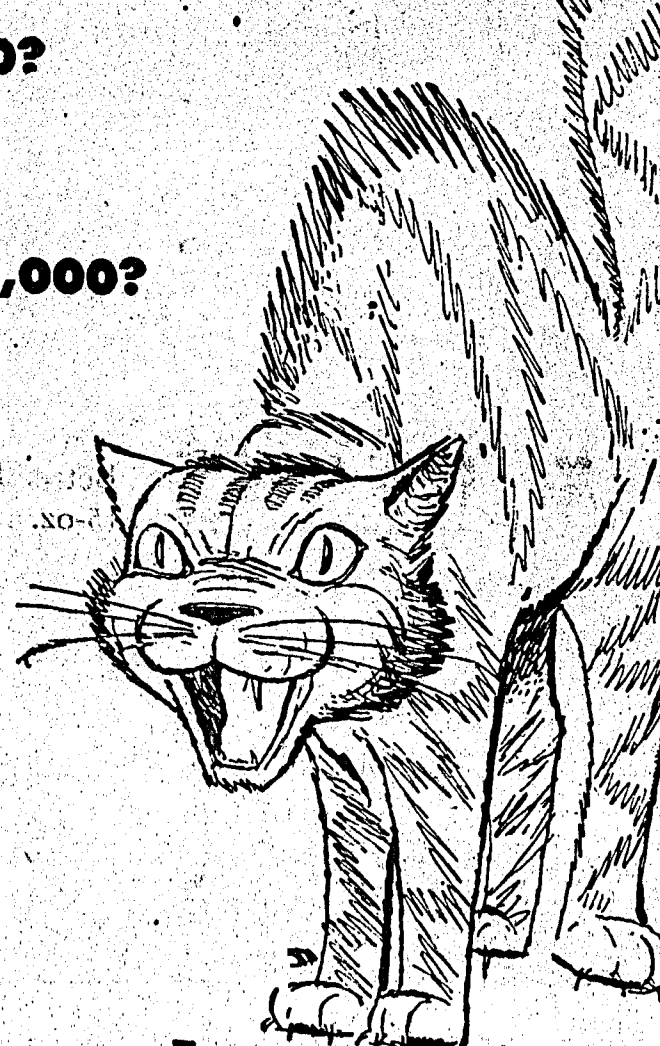

The Trail letter suggests that municipalities, operating arenas, should have the same concession as non-profit groups.

$100,000?

$1,600,000?

How much does a wildcat cost?

A "wildcat" is a well drilled in an area where oil has never been found. Drilling costs vary, but the average wildcat in western Canada runs to more than $100,000. One well cost $1,600,000—and found no oil!

Oil is making an increasingly important contribution to our standard of living. How many of these questions about it can you answer?

How many wildcat wells find a new oil field—
1 in 3? 1 in 7? 1 in 23?

The long-term average in western Canada is 1 in 23. Only 1 in 87 has found a field capable of producing as much as 2,000 barrels a day.

Since 1939 the cost of living index has risen by 85%. During that time has the price you pay for gasoline gone up by—44%? 79%? 103%?

The average retail price of gasoline is only 44% higher than prewar, even with higher road taxes in all provinces.

A lot of oil has been discovered in the west since 1946. In that time have Canada's oil reserves increased—4 times? 23 times? 37 times?

Reserves have increased 23-fold in the past six years. Canadian fields now supply all the prairies and part of B.C. and Ontario.

How many companies, would you say, are engaged in the oil business in Canada—23? 174? 750?

About 750 companies in which the public has an investment interest, as well as several hundred private firms and partnerships. And this doesn't include the thousands of privately operated service stations and other retail and wholesale outlets for oil products.

Canada's growing oil industry means orders for many businesses, jobs for many Canadians. Last year Imperial's purchasing department bought equipment and supplies from Canadian firms amounting to—$12 millions? $56 millions? $110 millions?

$56 millions. About 4,500 Canadian companies sold Imperial supplies ranging from heavy steel plates to paper clips.

Canada prepares to deal with disaster

What about these A-bombs?

This is the first of a series of ten articles dealing with Canada's civil defence preparation. Civil defence is now entering its third year, and steady progress has been made in forming a nucleus of well-trained volunteers from coast to coast. The articles have been prepared by the federal civil defence co-ordinator, Ottawa.

ARTICLE NO. II

Seeking to dispel mystery which creates uneasiness, Canadian civil defence authorities have set out, in manuals and other material prepared in connection with the national preparedness program, to tell people just what may be expected from the much-publicized and even more misunderstood "A-bombs."

Full details on the types, effects and special attributes of atomic weapons are contained in the book "Personal Protection under Atomic Attack," which has been made available to all interested in Canada against possible enemy onslaught.

Those training in the various civil defence services are being taught even how much damage and how many casualties might be expected from the various types of bomb bursts, and anyone who reads the federal publications can obtain a very good idea of what to do before, during and after raids, even with the most deadly weapons yet devised.

Belief that atomic weapons would destroy the earth is foolish, say the experts. Although atomic weapons hold more death and destruction than man has been able to put into one package before, and the new hydrogen bomb may be even more devastating, their power is limited.

RADIOACTIVITY

Danger from radioactivity, which most people fear, is less serious than generally believed. Fewer than 15 per cent of Japanese A-bomb deaths and injuries were caused by radioactivity and, had the Japanese known how to prepare against A-bombs, that percentage would have been reduced considerably. Radioactivity, Canadians are reminded, isn't anything new. It occurs in X-ray and even in rays from the sun. It is only harmful when absorbed in overdoses, just like sunburn.

Fortunately, almost anything that stands between a person and these rays acts, to some extent, as a shield, although considerable thicknesses are required to give complete protection. Manuals explain how much covering is required to ward off dangerous rays, and advise those caught outside in a raid to seek cover to minimize possible radioactive effects.

HEAT FLASH

When an A-bomb bursts, a wave of intense heat travels in all directions about the speed of light. Here again, fortunately, it goes only in straight lines, so that buildings, etc., can protect you. One major danger from such heat flash is the fires it may start. Damp or foggy weather reduces the range of the heat flash and clothing, even, offers some protection. There is no such danger of heat flash burns at a distance of more than 5,000 feet from the bomb burst, if there is sufficient haze to reduce visibility to one mile.

BLAST

Experts don't attempt to minimize the terrible toll which would be taken by blast. It would be capable of crumbling buildings like matchwood. Buildings up to a mile and a half from the point at which a bomb exploded would be severely damaged, if not totally destroyed. That is why people are advised to throw themselves down, wherever they may be when the bomb goes off. They should get under cover, even if it's only a desk or a table, indoors. The stronger the building in which they shelter, of course, the safer they'll be.

Canadians are reminded, too, that structures may be weakened by bomb blast, so they should keep away from buildings which may fall, even long after the blow has passed.

TYPES OF BURSTS

Of the three types of A-bomb burst, that which goes off high in the air is the worst, since it spreads havoc downwards over a wide area. If a bomb explodes in water, such as a lake, river or the sea, it may fill the air with particles of radioactive droplets, which can do damage, as well as create a water surge detrimental to the shoreline. A "ground-burst," exploding at ground level, would have restricted damage range, but would cause quite a "quake" and, too, might send up a lot of radioactive dust.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

These facts are being made known to the Canadian public as widely as possible in order that all may know what to expect and, therefore, what to do about such possible dangers. Knowledge is power, and, at least, Canada won't be caught totally unprepared. In fact, the main objective of governments at all levels is to see that the country is not only ready, but trained, to cope with catastrophe, no matter where or when it strikes.

BRAMPTON, Ont. — Brampton Lady Beaton of the B. H. Bull and Sons farm here was sold to a Tennessee buyer for $8,500. A livestock official said it was the highest price paid for a Canadian Jersey cow in 100 years.

WASHING'S NO PROBLEM NOW!

"Mummy took Auntie's advice" "It takes seven colours to make true white," Auntie said. "One of them is blue. That's why you must use Blue in your wash. Just wash Rockitt's Blue through the rinse. It prevents that yellow tinge and you avoid taking chances with anything that may damage fabrics." Rockitt's Blue costs so little, mummy says, "and out of the blue comes the whitest wash."

r.p.m.'s column

The date of the federal election will probably be known this week-end. Once the date is announced speculation will commence upon the chances of the St. Laurent government to be returned to power and the chances of the Conservatives of making any substantial gains.

In any assessment of the federal situation the attitude of the province of Quebec must be taken into consideration. Indeed, be given primary place for it is virtually impossible for a party to obtain a majority in the Commons without a substantial representation from Quebec.

And in any estimate of Quebec, at the moment there is an unknown factor.

The unknown X of the Quebec equation is Premier Duplessis.

Will he throw the weight of his powerful, Union Nationale organization behind the Pro Cons? Will he campaign for the Conservative Leader Drew, and thus openly risk a trial of strength with the first French-speaking Prime Minister of Canada since Laurier lost in the 1911 election? Or will he stay at home himself but pass the word quietly to his provincial organizers to get out and help the federal Conservatives? Or will he do none of these things?

More than a quarter of all the federal seats are in Quebec and the Conservative party must make substantial gains there if it is to form a government at Ottawa. The Conservatives have not been a political force in Quebec since 1930 when they won 24 seats. Unless they do as well in the forthcoming election it is difficult to see how they can win a majority in the Commons.

The Conservatives won Roberval in a by-election a year ago and this has given them cause for hope. Even so, short of a landslide, the day, but his organization, backed by a huge campaign fund, turned their Quebec prediction at a modest 10.

There are no provincial Conservatives in Quebec. Their provincial counterpart is the Union Nationale headed by Mr. Duplessis. And Ottawa politicians, Liberal and Conservative, have found Mr. Duplessis a difficult problem.

His organization, Liberals admit, will be a strong pro-Conservative factor in the election. The fact that he personally may not campaign is probably not distasteful to the Conservatives. His name may be influential in Quebec, but it isn't magic certainly elsewhere in Canada.

The Conservatives want Mr. Duplessis' support in Quebec, but they know and must face the fact that any speeches he may make during the campaign may hurt rather than help west of the Ottawa River.

The Conservatives say they have some strong candidates lined up in Quebec, although not officially nominated.

These candidates will probably have the support of the Duplessis organization and there is no question of the efficiency of that organization. The Liberals have some astonishing stories of its work in the provincial campaign last year when Duplessis swept the province. According to the Liberals, Duplessis was beaten two weeks before polling day, but his organization, backed by a huge campaign fund, turned their Quebec prediction at a modest 10.

Some of the election gimmicks used in Quebec seem strange to those who come from provinces where politics is on a different basis. One story is told of youths or even non-existent services on polling day. This cannot be called buying votes exactly because the youths are too young to vote. But their election day prosperity could conceivably influence the thinking of voting members of their family.

With the date of the election to be announced in a few days, it may be expected that the party machines are now being well oiled in Quebec. While the Conservatives admittedly face an uphill fight, the Liberals may yet over-estimate the popularity and election magic of the No. 1 were still in good condition.

CAR WINDOWS BROKEN

Juveniles were blamed for breaking windows in a 1930 Chevrolet in the 2600 block Pandori Street, according to a complaint lodged with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police here last week. Owner of the auto is Charles McKenzie.

FOAM LAKE, Sask.—William

Never more beautiful

Glenmore couple, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Sutton, find many changes in Great Britain during three-month visit

It was nearly 30 years ago since Mr. and Mrs. Felix Sutton of Glenmore, left England, to come to Canada, and a lot of changes can take place in that time.

They personally found this out during a three-month trip to England, at which time they were amazed over the way the country is rapidly recovering from the war. But England, from the scenic point of view, is still the same. Britain never looks more beautiful than in early spring.

Their biggest kick out of the whole trip was when they attended a hockey game. "Unload 'im, unload 'im" is the favorite expression of English hockey fans when an opposing player gets a break-away," according to Mr. Sutton. "Fans are as rabid over there as they are here. As a matter of fact the arena where Mr. and Mrs. Sutton attended a game had no seats and all patrons had to stand, packed in like sardines."

MANY CHANGES

A fellow standing in front of them was knocked out by a wild puck and had to be carried out. He never fell, of course—there wasn't room, and it was not his companions who bothered to go out with him. "Blimey," said one of them, "it's the second time I've got it in two weeks!"

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton found many changes in England. It had been 29 and 28 years respectively since they left the old country to come to Canada. Mrs. Sutton was a young bride. Neither had been back since.

"We spent most of our time visiting relatives. The people over there certainly go all out to meet you and give you a good time, especially when they hear you are a Canadian. They feel badly because they can't buy our apples and our salmon, not only because they can't afford it but also because Canada was such a great help to them during the war. There were no signs of pronounced poverty such as there were some years ago," said Mr. Sutton. "Everyone looks healthy."

"We were amazed at the changes we found. Education is available to everyone with more and better facilities. There are hundreds of double-decker buses that will take you from one end of the island to the other at unbelievably low fares. With the exception of meat, sugar and fats, food is plentiful.

The Kelownians were also impressed with the tremendous amount of traffic, considering the high taxes on cars and gas. On the basis of Canadian money, cars, gasoline and cigarettes are about the only items more expensive than in Canada.

Something that will be outstanding in their memories of their trip, is the tour that Mr. and Mrs. Sutton made of the old cathedrals. They saw the Salisbury Cathedral which has the highest spire in Britain; the Winchester, which is the resting place of early kings; the famous clock at the Wells Cathedral and the ruins of the Glastonbury Abbey, considered the birthplace of Christianity in Britain. They also saw the Holy Thorn. The story is that when Joseph Armithea got to Weary Hall hill, he planted his staff in the ground where it grew and from it rose the Holy Thorn, which blooms in Spring and at Christmas. They also saw the Stonehenge ruins, lasting from the time of the Druids.

MET CAMPBELL MOODY

"England seemed to be at its loveliest when we were there," said Mrs. Sutton. "Everything was green with the primroses, wild cowslips and bluebells out in full bloom everywhere one looked."

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton met a former Kelownian, Campbell Moody, son of W. H. Moody, 1480 St. Paul, who is a member of the staff of Canada House. He is most helpful to anyone visiting and we would advise any Kelownian going to England to call in and see him. If they have as wonderful a trip as we did, their time won't be wasted."

Lloyd-Jones Home women's auxiliary plan tea and sale

Plans for the tea and sale of handicraft by the senior citizens, to be held June 24, were discussed at the last regular monthly meeting of the season of the Auxiliary to the Lloyd-Jones Home, held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Knowles.

Mrs. H. Wightman was appointed tea convener while Mrs. Knowles will take charge of the decorating and Mrs. C. Shireff, publicity. Mrs. Shillington will act as fortune teller.

Car drives for the senior citizens for May were organized by Mrs. C. Stevenson and Mrs. T. F. McWilliams. Mrs. A. Ollerich will be organizer for the month of June.

Kelowna girl gets B.A. degree

Hilda Scheffler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scheffler, R.R. 2, Kelowna, received her B.A. degree from La Sierra college at Arlington, Calif., on Sunday.

Having majored in chemistry, she will enter the freshman class in medicine at the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, Calif., in August. At La Sierra, Miss Scheffler served as secretary of the chemistry club and worked as laboratory assistant in the chemistry department.

Previously, she attended Canadian Union College, College Heights, Alta., for two years.

Sanitarian gives outline of water supply problems

F. Alcock, sanitarian with the South Okanagan Health Unit, addressed the monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Kelowna Public Health Service Monday last. He spoke on water supplies and in particular, on some of the problems connected with the Kelowna supply.

He also conducted the group on a trip to the water intake centre where water from Okanagan Lake is chlorinated before being pumped under pressure into city water mains for distribution.

A total of $48 was realized from the sale of home cooking held recently, it was reported.

Delicious Strawberry Jam in 15 minutes from the time your fruit is prepared

COMPARE THESE TWO METHODS

WITH CERTO

1. Mrs. A. makes jam the short-boil way with CERTO. She has 2 pounds of fruit prepared ready to start at 9 o'clock.

2. The dotted line shows level of the prepared fruit in Mrs. A's saucepan.

3. Mrs. A. adds 3 pounds of sugar. A pound of jam made with CERTO contains no more sugar than a pound made the old long-boil way, but she knows the CERTO recipe will give her 50% more jam.

4. Mrs. A. brings the mixture to a full rolling boil; boils hard ONE MINUTE only; removes from stove and adds ½ bottle (4 ozs.) Certo. CERTO is the natural jelling substance in fruit in concentrated form.

5. Mrs. A. is able to pour and paraffin about 5 pounds (10 glasses) of jam from her 2 pounds of fruit. She gets sure results because she follows the CERTO recipe EXACTLY.

6. Mrs. A's 10 glasses of jam were made in just 15 minutes.

THE OLD WAY

1. Mrs. B. makes jam the old-fashioned, long-boil way. She, too, is ready to start her jam making at 9 o'clock.

2. Mrs. B. starts off with the same amount of prepared fruit in her saucepan.

3. Mrs. B. uses the old-fashioned long-boil recipe which calls for "one pound of sugar to every pound of fruit". So she weighs out 2 pounds of sugar and adds it to her prepared fruit.

4. Mrs. B. boils the mixture about 30 minutes before the jam thickens to the desired consistency. This evaporates about ½ the weight of the fruit, darkens the color and carries off much of the natural fresh-fruit flavor in steam.

5. Mrs. B. pours and paraffins about 3 pounds (6 glasses) of jam from the same amount of fruit. Until it is finished she cannot tell for sure how well her jam will turn out.

6. Mrs. B. took 45 minutes to make her 6 glasses of jam.

Kelowna youth graduates from Washington State

Ted H. McDonald, of Kelowna, was among the 1,074 graduates receiving a total of 1,250 degrees and certificates at Washington State College outdoor commencement exercises before some 9,000 people on the afternoon of May 31. He was awarded his master of arts in history.

This year's class included 833 graduates coming from 199 Washington cities and towns, 630 of these men and 202 co-eds. Others came from 37 other states and territories and from 18 other nations in the world, Canada having five provinces represented.

The Very Reverend Frederick W. Kates of Spokane advised the graduates to "welcome life, dare to dream and to seek and serve the Almighty, Everlasting God—not any of the little gods. Be aflame with a dream. Use your life to make your dream come true."

Fruit industry will try new approach to public relations

PENTICTON—B.C. Tree Fruits will experiment with a new approach to public relations this season. This new system, in which personal contact will play a large part, was explained at the regular monthly meeting of the Southern District Council of the BCFGA.

The problem of public relations, both within and outside the industry, was given a thorough airing at the meeting as growers sought to find the reason for the adverse sentiment against the central selling agency expressed in articles, letters to the editor and editorials in the coast and prairie press and in letters in the Valley newspapers.

Of the dissatisfaction within the industry, J. A. English, council representative on the central executive, said, "a lot of people within the industry have not learned what their organization is doing for them." He was referring to recent outbreaks of dissatisfaction at Osoyoos and Westbank.

It was pointed out by a grower that the majority of these letters in the Valley papers expressing discontent with the selling agency were not written by growers.

A. R. Garrish, BCFGA president, said he felt that public relations within the industry could be improved "through your elected representatives and through good coverage of your activities in the press."

Mr. Garrish went on to explain the new approach to public relations which will be tried in areas in which Okanagan produce is sold, mainly at the coast and on the prairies.

NEED MONEY

He said that personal contact will play a large part in the promotion of Okanagan products and that for the campaign to be a success money must be made available. He warned growers that they will have to go to the next BCFGA annual convention prepared to vote money towards the carrying out of the scheme.

"It's a job that has to be done," Mr. Garrish said. "We can't allow a hostile atmosphere to build up against our organization in the prairie press," he said, "referring to a recent outbreak of articles and editorials criticizing the marketing setup which appeared in prairie publications."

Previous to the discussion on public relations, Mr. Garrish gave a report on the Dr. R. C. Palmer Memorial fund.

Mr. Garrish said that the BCFGA has no funds available to contribute to the fund which will provide a scholarship of $10,000 in perpetuity at UBC and the committee in charge of the fund has been advised of the BCFGA's position.

Mr. Garrish reported that the central executive's proposal was to name the research grant which has been made annually to the experimental farm after Dr. Palmer. It was felt, he said, that this grant was more closely associated with the industry than the UBC scholarship and would be a more fitting tribute to Dr. Palmer.

PROCESSORS CONTRIBUTE
Reporting on the B.C. Fruit Processors, A. G. DesBrisay stated that an estimate of what the processors will contribute to the apple pool had been made and it was figured at approximately $310,000. Last year's contribution to the apple pool from the processors was $160,000.

Questioned on the capacity of the fruit processors, Mr. DesBrisay said "We would like a million and a half boxes." He said that the processors intend to concentrate on apple juice where there is a large market. "Our apple juice potential is 700,000 cases," he said.

Frost and wind warning service concludes for '53

The 19th season of the frost and wind warning service has come to an end. This service has been provided to Okanagan fruit growers by the meteorological branch of the department of transport and the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association. Last bulletin went on the air from the radio stations in Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon and Kamloops.

Because of the early spring, this season has been about two weeks longer than usual. The first forecast was issued on March 23.

In past years an early spring has frosts at blossom time. This year, however, apart from two very cold nights at the beginning of April, frost did not present too much of a problem.

A feature of the service this year was the inauguration of spray weather forecasts. These have become necessary with the increase of blossom thinning and have been issued daily in addition to the regular frost and wind warning bulletin.

D. N. McMullen, Meteorologist-in-charge and his assistant, Les Howard, will return to Vancouver in a few days. This is the 5th year Mr. McMullen has come to Penticton to direct this service.

Comet Delivery Service building

Pictured above is the new headquarters of Comet Delivery Service at 266 Leon Ave. Country Freight Lines Ltd., also has an office in the building, and both business firms are in a better position to give more efficient service, besides having larger storage space for freight.

Hard work and perseverance paid dividends to Comet Service head, Gordon Allan

Hard work, perseverance, and tenacious resolve, have finally brought reward to Gordon Allan, a native of Kelowna, who founded Comet Delivery Service over seven years ago.

His associate at the time was Ed Field but this partnership was dissolved in 1949 when Allan bought the latter out.

The severance added to the challenge, but long hours of toil and the will to win, have brought success to "Comet" Service, so named until today there are two large trucks, two light deliveries, and a motorcycle outfit.

Comet Service is equipped to handle all types of moving, including households. Having the local Williams Moving and Storage Company as an agent, they can arrange to move and store furniture, fixtures, etc., any place on the continent.

A member of the Kelowna and District Transport Association, Comet Service believes that the association has accomplished a great deal, both on the part of operators and the public. Mr. Allan is a director. The association sponsors Truck Roadies which are open to accident-free drivers only.

Safety, courtesy and care, and a willingness to toil, have made miles annually and serve an area embracing a 50-mile radius from the Okanagan.

Appleton, Cundy regular drivers for Comet firm

Comet Service drivers are well-known in Kelowna and district since their manifold duties take them everywhere.

In busy seasons there are three drivers, plus owner Gordon Allan.

Regulars are Jim Appleton and Bob Cundy. The latter has been on the Comet payroll for the past year, while Jim Appleton has been with the firm since 1947 and is one of the best-known drivers in the Central Okanagan.

Comet service buys empty beer bottles

While they are agents for the Enterprise Brewery at Revelstoke, Comet Service buys all kinds of empty beer bottles.

Comet will make a special trip if there are ten dozen or more "empties." If the quantity is less, the bottles will be picked up usually in a day or two. Or bottles may be brought direct to Comet Service.

With their new building, Comet Service now has the proper storage room for bottles, while awaiting the arrival of the brewery truck.

Bottles are big business at Comet.

A portion of the original Holland was submerged by a great inundation from the sea in 1421.

Local contractors constructed Comet Service building

General contractor for the new Comet Service building was Leo Douillard. The plumbing and sheet metal work was done by Wightman Plumbing and Heating, and roofing and flooring by the Flor-Lay Company. M. R. Loyst was the electrical contractor, while Wm. Haug & Son supplied the concrete blocks, cement and lime.

The building offers further proof that whether a structure is large or small, local craftsmen and local labor will construct it well.

Comet delivery service employees welcome large office space

After occupying a small office in the Home Service building next door, Comet Service personnel are enjoying the 30x36 building which provides bright, roomy office space in which to work.

Despite the former cramped quarters, the little office adjacent to that of Ed and Bert Dickens, was a beehive of activity and served its purpose well.

Made of concrete blocks and complete with a cement floor, the new, fire-proof building means comfort and convenience for all.

Office lady, Mrs. Muriel Snelgrove, is particularly happy over the new arrangement, and is proud of the new quarters. The address is 266 Leon Avenue, and telephone number is 2855.

With a cream and green stuccoed exterior and a flashy Comet Service sign on the front, the new building adds much to what has become one of Kelowna's busiest streets.

The Passing Parade

By JACK SCOTT

WEAK LINK

If you spend any time at all with military men, as I did recently for several days, you're apt to find yourself speculating on the wide and unfortunate gulf between the man in uniform and the man in a business suit.

I noticed recently in an editorial in the Ottawa Citizen an opinion on this relationship that seemed to me a long way off base.

The editorial was considering the recent announcement that boys of Well, I'm not so sure. Fact is, I am convinced that there's an element of distrust between those two groups and that it grows in direct ratio with the growth of the forces.

16 would be eligible for enlistment and wondering if this new policy might foster the growth of a "military caste" in Canada.

The editor thought not. And for this reason: "In Canada the military and civilian society remains so close that the danger of such a development here is unlikely."

A distrust of the military mind is nothing new.

Most civilians, it seems to me, have this distrust of the military. They are apt to suspect that the man in uniform, highly trained for the use of force, is a man who thinks only in those terms and is thus not to be trusted with the delicate peace.

There is a widespread suspicion that the professional soldier is a man fundamentally second rate. I heard this expressed bluntly in a friendly yet frank, debate at a certain army mess.

"I don't understand the outlook of a man who joins the military—ent force," a civilian said, "I like to think, as a civilian, that I can aim for the moon."

"But you've withdrawn from that kind of competitive world, isn't this the great danger of the military—that it attracts so many mediocre men?"

The officer agreed that, in many cases, it did, that many join because of the promise of security and an early pension. But such men, they pointed out, rarely reach the positions of authority.

On this I'm inclined to agree. I was deeply impressed with the caliber of the senior officers I met on my junket.

The army, to me, is a stifling, limiting field—indeed, I think it is a caste system—but the men I've met at the top are almost without exception, outstanding, intelligent and thoughtful.

What did surprise me—and perhaps only because it had never occurred to me—is that this distrust is a two-way business. For the military distrusts the civilian mind and, what's more, has plenty of reason for distrusting it.

Certainly few military men can consider the kind of political compromises made by a leader like Mackenzie King—compromises that cost the lives of many Canadian soldiers—without feeling a prejudice against all politicians.

It goes deeper than that. I met several officers of senior rank recently returned from Korea.

They are men who dare not be quoted on their opinion (another grave weakness of the military atmosphere), but, off the record, they're eager to get their views across to the public.

They are shaken by the lack of interest or understanding of what is happening in Korea. They see the so-called home front playing a kind of blind man's bluff, trying to do business as usual while Canadians are dying in battle.

"The war with Russia is already on," one officer told me, not without bitterness, "and the people here at home won't recognize it. You talk about a distrust of the military mind! Good God, it's only the military man out in Korea who is keeping this country from all-out war."

Okan. telephone company revenue 1952 $884,000

Revenue of the Okanagan Telephone Company in 1952 reached a new high at $884,000, the annual meeting in Vancouver was informed. The total was some $120,000 more than in 1951.

The annual report of the company, which provides telephone service throughout the Okanagan Valley and adjacent areas and is the second largest such organization in B.C., showed excellent progress in every department.

Presiding at the meeting was president F. A. Sherrin. Other directors for the last year were C. D. Campbell, vice-president, Vancouver; T. E. Clarke and R. W. Ley, Vernon; A. G. DesBrisay, Penticton, and Leon J. Ladner, Q.C., Vancouver. Secretary is W. Fitch.

TOTAL ASSETS
Total assets at the end of the year amounted to $4,063,000. Current assets were $742,000 and fixed assets $3,321,000. Contracts and commitments aggregating $310,000 outstanding on capital projects "are payable during this year."

Net income of the company was $95,000, an increase of $1,300. Dividends paid increased by $700 to $75,000. All government taxes on income and properties amounted to $108,000, interest $82,000, and depreciation $131,000, the latter up sharply by $22,000, reflecting increased investment.

Total payroll for the year was $467,000, paid to 6 male and 122 female employees. The daily average of local calls completed was 80,120, and 610,473 long distance calls were handled.

Net additions to plant totaled $676,000.

Country Freight Lines now located in new Comet Service building on Leon Avenue

Country Freight Line Ltd., formerly located in the Pacific Tractor and Equipment Ltd. building at 1647 Water Street, is now located at 266 Leon Avenue, in the new Comet Service building.

The former C.F.L. office was opened here October 1, 1952. Under the youthful direction of agent Terry Cather, business has grown steadily.

Mr. Cather has been with the firm for two years and states that "working with the company, rather than for, applies to the whole organization."

"Every man is an ambassador of goodwill for the company," he added, "which means that we all give a personalized service."

Even the smallest matter is taken care of with a willingness that is in itself an expression of appreciation for business received.

"We believe that we have the finest service in the valley," continued agent Cather, "and we all work and co-operate to that end."

Increased business has necessitated assistance. As a result, Louis Wolfe has joined Terry Cather. Prior to moving to Kelowna, Mr. Wolfe was on the Penticton-Kelowna run for the past three years and has made many acquaintances here.

The Okanagan staff consists of six, plus numerous line drivers.

KELOWNA NORTHERN TERMINUS

Kelowna is the northern terminus of Country Freight Lines Ltd., Osoyoos the southern terminus, Princeton the west.

C.F.L. covers all points in between, giving the Okanagan unsurpassed daily overnight freight service to Vancouver.

This is particularly important when it comes to fresh fruit. Semi-trailers as used by C.F.L. are superior to straight trucks, because mechanical failure of the tractor would incur a minimum of delay, as a new tractor would be dispatched to continue the haul. Unloading of the fruit would not be required. Breakdowns, however, are a rarity.

Utmost care is used at all times.

PICK-UP SERVICE

Country Freight Lines Ltd. offers a pick-up and delivery service in the city to handle small shipments. The phone number, 2500, remains the same.

Each unit of CFL carries capacity 20 tons freight

Fourteen big, red delicious apples, measuring approximately 6x5 feet are publicizing the Okanagan valley all over Vancouver and the lower mainland.

The apples appear on both sides of seven diesel-powered trailer units which enables Country Freight Lines to give Kelowna a fast, daily, direct and overnight freight service to and from Vancouver.

Each unit measures 35 feet in length, with a carrying capacity of 20 tons each, making a daily cargo capacity of 280,000 pounds. The height from wheel base to top of each trailer is over 12 feet.

The complete unit, trailer and tractor, uses 18 wheels. All C.F.L. drivers are members of the National Safety Council.

The huge units are readily identified by the big red apples, chosen because the apple is the symbol of the Okanagan, stated C.F.L. agent Terry Cather. Behind the idea is a sincere desire to publicize the valley. Each point served in the Okanagan is listed on both sides of the seven trailers.

Diesel-operated units are cheaper

The 200 h.p. diesel-powered units, as operated by C.F.L. have proven cheaper and better in the long run. Because such trailers pack a bigger load, the volume results in lower freight rates.

CFL has seven semi-trailers hauling freight

Country Freight Lines Ltd. was established in Vancouver 20 years ago. As the valley grows, their Okanagan fleet will expand. Seven giant C.F.L. semi-trailers are now hauling general freight in to the Okanagan from Vancouver, returning with apple juice, canned goods and fresh fruit, in season.

The final celebration in London on Coronation Week was a glittering dinner party at which Prime Minister Churchill played host to Queen Elizabeth and members of the Royal Family, the Commonwealth prime ministers, crown princes from Europe and Asia and top diplomatic and military leaders.

Most of the famous figures who had attended the solemn coronation ceremonies in Westminster Abbey were guests at Lancaster House. Sir Winston Churchill led the newly-crowned Queen into the flower-decked banquet room. Lady Churchill followed on the arm of the Duke of Edinburgh.

Britain's grand old warrior, the 78-year-old prime minister enjoyed himself hugely and proposed toast after toast to his distinguished guests, starting with the Queen, Prince Philip, Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret.

"At a reception in Buckingham Palace earlier Queen Elizabeth said formal farewells to many distinguished visitors from overseas and officially thanked them for attending her coronation. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, gave a garden party at Lambeth Palace. The skies had cleared and the weather warmed considerably for the first time since the rain-drenched coronation day.

CANADIANS GUARD PALACE
A crowd of 20,000 saw a smart 54-man guard from three crack Canadian regiments mount guard at Buckingham Palace for 24 hours late last week. It was the first time Canadians had mounted guard in London since 1940—the first time ever for a reigning Queen.

The Canadian performance in the 40-minute inaugural ceremony as they relieved the famous Grenadier Guards, drew from Prime Minister St. Laurent the admiring comment: "A good job proudly executed."

The Canadian guard comprised permanent force Korea veterans from the Royal Canadian Regiment, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and the Royal 22nd Regiment. The commander was Major R. D. Medland of Toronto.

The historic ceremony of the changing of the guard was watched from a window of the palace by four-year-old Prince Charles and his younger sister, Princess Anne.

NAVAL REVIEW
The next great ceremony of this

Coronation season is the naval review on June 15 in the historic Spithead anchorage near Portsmouth. Guns will boom the royal salute and more than 50,000 men will line the rafts of some 270 vessels to cheer the Queen as she sails from Portsmouth to review her navy.

Elizabeth, and the royal party aboard the 1,500-ton frigate Surprise, serving for the day as the royal yacht, will see 206 ships of the Royal Navy and Commonwealth navies ranged in nine main lines, extending more than seven miles westward. Two more lines will comprise the Royal fleet auxiliary tankers and supply ships, the merchant marine and the fishing fleet. A further line is reserved for 16 warships of foreign nations.

The whole huge sea mosaic will have a fringe of private yachts and small craft, including representatives of the lifeboat service which guards the stormy British coast.

EVEREST CONQUERORS
The lamas, or priests, at the ancient monastery at the foot of Mount Everest broke years of meditation last week-end to fetter the triumphant British expedition returning from the conquered peak. The 26 lamas gave the 13 Britons the most lavish feast they could prepare and staged a victory dance for them. The Britons had stayed at the monastery for their earlier training climbs.

Several days of festivities were scheduled before the Britons say goodbye to Everest and their Sherpas, or native guides, and make the 170-mile trek to Katmandu, capital of Nepal. The Sherpa guide Tensing, who made the final climb to the peak with Edmund Hillary of New Zealand, will probably travel with the rest of the party.

Col. John Hunt, leader of the British team which was first in history to reach the top, wants both Hillary and Tensing to stay with the party until they have been welcomed in Britain. The return of the expedition will throw new light on Everest's actual height. Most textbooks put it at 29,002 feet, but the estimate is a century old. Indian experts believe it is nearer 29,200 feet.

HUGE EXERCISE
Val Peterson, the U.S. civil defence chief, says he fears the Russians "will find it the time to attack" if the United States should let down its guard because of a truce in the Korean war. Peterson spoke after witnessing an elaborate civil defence exercise in which Canadian and western New York State units took part last week. Peterson said he was afraid the U.S. would "go to sleep" if a truce was reached in Korea.

The huge civil defence exercise involved an imaginary atom bomb exploding 1,700 feet over Niagara Falls, N.Y. It brought a pell-mell rush of fire-fighting equipment and rescue units from counties in New York State and from Lincoln and

Tree planting ceremony held at East Kelowna

EAST KELOWNA—An impressive ceremony took place in the East Kelowna school grounds where a blue spruce tree was planted to commemorate the coronation of the Queen. School children, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Brownies, and a number of residents assembled on the lawn.

J. Kiene, school board representative of the P-T-A, was the chairman, and W. Ratzlaff, school principal, arranged the program.

The tree was presented to the community by the members of the Women's Institute. Taking part in the planting ceremony were Mrs. A. W. Rowles, president, and Mrs. H. A. Porter and Mrs. D. Evans, life members of the East Kelowna W.I.

The programme opened with O Canada; the chairman address on the purpose of the assembly; devotional reading; a hymn; "Our Gracious Sovereign," a poem written for the Coronation by the poet Laureate, John Masefield, read by grades five and six; hymn, "Praise Him," sung by the pupils of grades two and three; hymn, "O God our help and ages past," by the assembly; tree planting by the members

Welland counties in Ontario. Theoretically, the bomb could have killed 12,000 and injured another 15,000 in the city of 90,000. Peterson termed the test "soundly conceived and well executed." Canada's civil defence chief, Gen. F. F. Worthington, joined U.S. officials in praising the removal of the border during the "emergency" and said that civil defence "may be the salvation of our two nations."

More than 40,000 pounds of fireworks prepared for the July 4 independence Day celebrations blew up in a spout of flame at Houston, Texas, killing four persons in a nearby cottage and injuring 73 others in the neighborhood. Damage was estimated at $3,000,000.

Only two men were in the fireworks warehouse itself, and they escaped with minor injuries, running off as soon as a spark touched off a fire that resulted in the explosion. It smashed nearly everything in the block surrounding the Alco Fireworks and Specialty Company warehouse.

Agoston civic officials said it was against the law to store fireworks inside the city limits, without a permit. The actual cause apparently was a spark from a hammer being used to drive nails into the framework of a display stand containing explosives.

of the W.I.; reading of the Queen's dedication from her speech made in Africa one the occasion of her birthday, by the school principal; a short prayer for "the Queen" made up by the children and teachers; presentation of the flag by the scouts, duty patrol, Norman Hardy, Kenneth Ross, Russell Neid.

Program closed with God Save the Queen, by the assembly.

The school children were presented with a commemorative medal. Afternoon tea was served in the lunchroom for the adults. Proceeds will help with the cost of framing three beautiful pictures of "Her Majesty," which the school has received from the department of education.

Taking part in the parade of the provinces at the coronation ceremony in Kelowna were the children of the East Kelowna School who represented the province of Manitoba.

ANGLE-LORE

Where and how to get the best fishing

By JIM TREADGOLD

(Editor's Note—As a service to anglers, The Kelowna Courier will carry this favorite column, by one of the district's best authorities, every Thursday. Mr. Treadgold will welcome reports from anyone. The more co-operation, the more information can be passed on to others.)

Weather conditions again have kept fishing to a minimum the past week, which, I guess, is good luck for the fish. The consistent rain, wind and cool temperatures have kept most anglers off the water.

The B.C. Sport Fishing Regulations (1953) are out and I have given them a quick once-over. We have been led to believe that the new regulations would be easy to read and understand. I agree they are put up much better than in the past but there is still plenty of room for improvement.

It might be a good idea if the both fly and troll, the fish being of fishery department got a couple of fair size.

BEAR LAKE—Reports from here were brightest of all last week-end. STAN and MARY DUGGAN caught 23 nice ones, up to 2½ pounds, taken on the Grizzly King fly and a No. 4 Yellow Flatfish.

SHUSWAP—Poor reports. TOMMY YAMAMOTO and MR. NAITO spent three days there last week catching one fish.

WOODS LAKE—Spotty. A few fair reports from KALAMALKA.

SILVER LAKE (near Trepanier) —DR. and MRS. HACKIE had a nice catch here in a short time Sunday. There are no boats for rental; the road is fair with a five-minute easy walk.

MABEL LAKE—Quite well, according to a few indirect reports. TRAPPE LAKE—Slow on the fly so far and fish taken have been small. Road is rough.

MISSION CREEK—A few fish taken but for most part water is too turbulent. The best report came from the north fork.

OKANAGAN LAKE—Holding up very well. Very good reports coming in daily, with limit or near limit catches of trout of the one- to two-pound size. Use surface lures, with small wobblers, plugs, or spinner and worms. Fish in the bays and fairly close to shore. Good spots have been reported all the way from SUMMERLAND to NAHUN.

A few whitefish have been taken lately on the spinner and worm. These are not a coarse fish but all edible, in fact are preferred to trout by many. Kokanee catches are best in the OKANAGAN CENTRE to CARR'S LANDING area, where a few larger trout have been hooked.

BEAVER LAKE—Only fair reports, trolling still taking the most fish. Fly fishing will come on quick when the weather turns sunny and warm. The road to OYAMA LAKE, via Oyama, is very wet and rough and fit only for jeep traffic. The road has been padlocked near the bottom of the hill but a new portion of road has been made. Fishing only fair at Oyama Lake.

DEE LAKE CHAIN—Little fishing due to rain and cold. GEORGE MECKLING claimed the worst day's fishing he ever had due to a combination of rain, wind and thunder. His party hiked into SECOND FLY FISH LAKE and got a thorough soaking—plus one fish.

A change to sunny weather will bring on good fishing in the chain in a hurry.

POSTILL LAKE—Very few late reports. No doubt this spot was rained out last week-end, too. Previous reports indicated the lake was picking up considerably for

Vees' receipts total $80,000

PENTICTON—Annual meeting of the Penticton Hockey Club learned the V's ended the season with a bank balance of $3,000.

Just about "broke" when the playoffs with Kamloops were concluded, the club gained during the Spokane series and from then on returns from the CAHA, plus travelling and subsistence allowances, a $700 donation from the booster club and the $1750 windfall from the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen kept the V's ahead of the game.

It cost $78,000 to operate the club the past season. Ticket sales amounted to $66,504 with an attendance of 80,602, including 13,118 children.

BIRD NEW PRESIDENT

The club's share of the Savage Cup playoff with Spokane came to $6800. The Vees received $5,000 as their share of the Western Allan Cup final and the Canadian final gates.

Clem Bird is the new president, succeeding Bill McCulloch, who a few days later was elected president of the Okanagan league. Harold W. Moines, Q.C., is the new vice-president.

Set to play baseball—but 140 miles apart

Confusion over where Sunday's B.C. Interior Baseball League game between Revelstoke and North Kamloops resulted in no game at all.

The schedule called for North Kamloops to go to Revelstoke (league proxy Art Gray of Rutland has confirmed this) but the North Kamloops Merchants were waiting on their diamond for the Spikes to show up. The game will be replayed later.

BEST THINCLADS COMING

Gaining in prestige yearly, the June 27 and 28 Interior Track and Field Championships meet here is expected to attract many of the best athletes in the Pacific Northwest.

MAY REVIVE CRICKET

NELSON—A strong movement is under way to revive the sport of cricket in this city.

Figuratively speaking, Robin Phillips seems to be the goose that laid the golden eggs. Some observers think manager Steve O'Neill may be "killing" the golden goose by pitching his star right-hander too often.

O'Neill laid out a murderous pace for Roberts. A majority of his Philadelphia teammates think he can keep it up.

One, however, who asked not to be identified, commented:

"Robbie is helping nobody by pitching every third day. He'll wind up with a sore arm, the club will be minus its star pitcher and we'll all be up the creek."

OLD DIZ DID IT

The dissenter didn't need to illustrate his case with a similar situation that occurred in the early 1930s. Everyone remembered how the great Dizzy Dean worked all the spring out of his strong right arm in pitching too often as St. Louis Cardinals made a terrific stretch drive to clinch the National League pennant.

Dean hung around the big leagues for a while after that but never regained his staying power, and he departed prematurely with a sore arm.

"But he's no iron man. Why should he be able to do something no pitcher has done for 30 or 40 years? He's not a machine."

O'Neill, before the season started, figured Roberts could pitch about 400 innings this year. That's a tall figure.

No National Leaguer has been able to do that in 45 years. Roberts worked 330 innings last season, a figure topped only by Burleigh Grimes since the advent of the lively ball in 1921. Grimes, now manager of Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, hurled 331 innings for Pittsburgh in 1928.

EIGHT VICTORIES

With the season a little more than one-third over, Roberts had pitched 103½ innings up to June 3. His record showed eight victories—most in either major leagues—and three losses.

Roberts doesn't mind working at his strength-sapping pace.

"I'd rather have five real fine seasons on pennant-winning clubs than pitch 10 or even 20 years on also-rans," he says.

"I don't like being with a fourth and fifth place club like the Phillies have been the last two years. Some pitchers don't mind just going along, hanging on year after year on losing clubs. They're satisfied as long as they are in the majors."

"I don't believe in that. I'm never satisfied unless I'm with a pennant winner."

WHO SAYS HE'S OLD

TRAIL—Veteran smoothie Marcus Smith scored nine goals and helped on two others to pace the Trail Golden Bears to a 21-17 victory over Nelson in a senior "B" boxla league game here last week.

Still hope Burnaby Lake will be site of rowing events for BE Games

BURNABY—Members of organizations interested in the development of Burnaby Lake as a provincial park and the site of the British Empire Games are hopeful of early favorable action by the Provincial Government.

Boards of Trade of Burnaby, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Vancouver Rowing Club, Vancouver Power Boat Association and the municipality hope to get a favorable decision from the reigning powers in Victoria once final results of Tuesday's provincial election are known.

(Kelowna, Penticton and Nelson also are in the fight to stage the BEG rowing events.)

Veterans plan returning to bolster Bruins

Kelowna Lacrosse Association officials announced last week that two Vernon players have signed contracts with the Bruins. They are Merv Eldoski and Stu Robertson.

Both played with the B.C. champions from Vernon last year. Due to the fold-up of the game this season they are free agents in this league.
